Explanatory—Election Statistics

Election statistics in this book are more in detail than are the official returns to the Secretary of State. The official returns do not include the vote by precincts. The vote by precincts is furnished for this book by the County Auditors direct to the Superintendent of Printing. These precinct returns appear as submitted by the County Auditors, and all compilations of state and county returns in this volume are based thereon. This produces harmony within this volume, except for possible errors, but there may be discrepancies in given instances between the vote shown in this volume on the one hand and the official vote recorded in the office of the Secretary of State on the other, for the reason that the two sets of returns from the same source, namely, those furnished to the Secretary of State (not including the precinct vote) and those furnished to the Superintendent of Printing (the precinct vote) do not always agree. The official vote, of course, stands as such, regardless of such discrepancies, but the figures given in the Official Register, because they include and are based on the precinct vote, which is not returned to the Secretary of State, will not always tally with the official figures.

Such discrepancies have occurred with respect to all editions of the Official Register that have carried the precinct vote.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

In Congress, July 4, 1776

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

(Adopted by the Continental Congress July 2, and authenticated and proclaimed July 4, 1776)

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a desire to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained, and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining in the meantime exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws of naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislature.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation—

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us;

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world;

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province; establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our government;

For suspending our own legislature, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation, and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian savages whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes, and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts, by their legislature, to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity; and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace, friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connections between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

ARTICLE I.

SECTION 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a congress of the United States, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

SEC. 2. (1)* The house of representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several states; and the electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislature.

(2) No person shall be a representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state in which he shall be chosen.

(3) [Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states which may be included within this union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding, to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons.] The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each state shall have at least one representative, and, until such enumeration shall be made, the state of New Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New York six, New Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five and Georgia three.

The figures in brackets are inserted for convenience of reference; they are not in the original.

(4) When vacancies happen in the representation from any state, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

(5) The house of representatives shall choose their speaker and other officers and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

SEC. 3. (1) The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, chosen by the legislature thereof for six years; and each senator shall have one vote.

(2) Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, of the second class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen, by resignation or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any state the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

(3) No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen.

(4) The vice-president of the United States shall be president of the senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

(5) The senate shall choose their other officers and also a president pro tempore, in the absence of the vice-president or when he shall exercise the office of president of the United States.

(6) The senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the president of the United States is tried, the chief justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

(7) Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

SEC. 4. (1) The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof, but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

(2) The congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

SEC. 5. (1) Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

(2) Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behaviour, and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

(3) Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

(4) Neither house, during the session of congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

SEC. 6. (1) The senators and representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the treasury of the United States. They shall in all cases, except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the attendance at the sessions of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

(2) No senator or representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

SEC. 7. (1) All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the house of representatives, but the senate may propose or concur with amendments, as on other bills.

(2) Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it become a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it unless the congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

(3) Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The congress shall have power:—

(1) To lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for common defense and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States.

(2) To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

(2) Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them and, in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper. He shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

In all the other cases, before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under regulations as the congress shall make.

(3) The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3. (1) Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

(2) The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

(2) A person charged in any state with treason, felony or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

(3) No person held to service or labor in one state, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3. (1) New states may be admitted by the congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned as well as of the congress.

(2) The congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular state.

SEC. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and, on application of legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necesary, shall propose amendments to this constitution, or, on application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

(1) All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this constitution as under the confederation.

(2) This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

(3) The senators and representatives before mentioned and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executives and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

THE CONSTITUTION OF IOWA

Historical Review

Iowa "beautiful land," as the Indians called the region, was first seen by white men when Marquette and Joliet touched the west bank of the Mississippi river near the mouth of the Des Moines in 1673.

Marquette, a Jesuit priest, and Joliet, a fur trader, entered the great Father of Waters by way of the Wisconsin river, June 17, and traveled down stream several days before noticing the first sign of habitation. They had almost reached what is now the southern boundary of the state when near the confluence of the Des Moines and Mississippi rivers they discerned footprints on the west bank of the Mississippi and a path leading through the woods. Following the path they came to an Indian village and met friendly Indians. History thus records the first visit of white men to the country which many years later became the state of Iowa.

In 1803 the famous Louisiana purchase was made of the territory of which Iowa was a part and gave to the territory thus secured its first government. The United States then acquired a region of 875,025 square miles, containing 560,016,000 acres, for the sum of $15,000,000.

One year later congress passed an act dividing the territory along the thirty-third parallel, the northern part being named the district of Louisiana and the southern part the territory of Orleans. In 1812 Orleans became a state called Louisiana and the region of which Iowa was a part, the Missouri territory.

In 1821 Missouri assumed statehood, leaving the region of which Iowa was a part without any organized form of government, but in 1834 it was joined with the territory of Michigan. The territory of Wisconsin was formed in 1836, including the areas later divided into the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. Iowa was organized as a separate territory July 4, 1838, including the portion of the Wisconsin territory west of the Mississippi and north of the state of Missouri.

The territory of Iowa was the ancient abode of the Sac, Ioway, Dakota and Fox tribes of Indians, and did not have any permanent settlers until 1833. The Indians refused permission to white settlers to come in to mine and farm, and the United States troops protected their rights until 1832. The Black Hawk war resulted in letting white men in, for its conclusion in 1832 brought about the cession of thousands of square miles of the eastern part of Iowa. During the next few years, practically the whole of the Iowa territory was secured from them through treaties.

The frontiersmen rushed in to farm and mine. The population increased very rapidly with the influx of prospectors and homeseekers from all parts of the union. During the ten years from 1836 to 1846 the increase in inhabitants was from 10,531 to 102,388.

Government was established among the early settlers by voluntary associations. They selected their own homes and began improving them, building huts and clearing and breaking the ground. "Claim associations" and "land clubs" were formed for the protection of their claims to the land they worked. These organizations were the only government they had and their proceedings were later recognized by the United States government.

The Act of Congress of 1838, entitled "an act to divide the territory of Wisconsin and to establish the Territorial Government of Iowa" gave the Territory of Iowa its constitution. Until the formation of the State in 1846, this constitution was its fundamental law.

Iowa having separated from Wisconsin in 1838 for the want of sufficient courts for judicial relief, the question of applying for admission into the Union as a state was recommended as early as 1839. The first recommendation brought no result, and in 1840 the question of calling a constitutional convention was voted on by the people. It was defeated by a large majority, as it was again in 1842 by those who most wished to avoid an increase in taxes. In 1844, however, the vote was in favor of a convention. Application for a state government was made. The question of boundaries, a result of the question of slavery, held back its admission as a state until 1846, when on the 28th day of December it was admitted into the union on an equal footing with the thirteen original states. It was the sixteenth state so admitted.

The first constitutional convention was convened at Iowa City, October 7, 1844. The constitution adopted by this convention was twice voted on in 1845 and each time defeated.

At a second constitutional convention at Iowa City, May 4, 1846, a constitution was approved. It was adopted by the people at an election held on the third day of August, 1846, there being 9,492 votes cast "for the constitution," and 9,036 votes cast "against the constitution." This constitution was presented to congress in December, 1846, and on the 28th day of the same month an act was passed for the admission of Iowa into the union.

In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the state may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the state in war; but the money arising from the debts so contracted shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

SEC. 5. Except the debts hereinbefore specified in this article, no debt shall be hereafter contracted by, or on behalf of this state, unless such debt shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of the contracting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election it shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each county, if one is published therein, throughout the state, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

The general assembly, at the first session under this constitution, shall district the state into eleven judicial districts, for district court purposes; and shall also provide for the apportionment of the members of the general assembly, in accordance with the provisions of this constitution.

SEC. 13. This constitution shall be submitted to the electors of the state at the August election, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, in the several election districts in this state. The ballots at such election shall be written or printed as follows: Those in favor of the constitution, "New Constitution—Yes." And if it shall appear that a majority of all the votes cast at such election for and against this constitution are in favor of the same, the governor shall immediately issue his proclamation stating that fact, and such constitution shall be the constitution of the state of Iowa, and shall take effect from and after the publication of said proclamation.

SEC. 14. At the same election that this constitution is submitted to the people for its adoption or rejection, a proposition to amend the same by striking out the word "White" from the article on the right of suffrage shall be separately submitted to the electors of this state for adoption or rejection in the manner following—namely: A separate ballot may be given by every person having a right to vote at said election, to be deposited in a separate box; and those given for the adoption of such proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word 'White' be stricken out of the article on the right of suffrage? Yes." And those given against the proposition shall have the words, "Shall the word 'White' be stricken out of the article on the right of suffrage? No." And if at said election the number of ballots cast in favor of said proposition shall be equal to a majority of those cast for and against this constitution, then said word "White" shall be stricken from said article and be no part thereof.

SEC. 15. Until otherwise directed by law, the county of Mills shall be in and a part of the sixth judicial district of this state (Amended. See Amendment of 1904).

Done in convention at Iowa City, this fifth day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the eighty-first.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas an instrument known as the "New Constitution of the State of Iowa" adopted by the constitutional convention of said state on the fifth day of March, A. D. 1857, was submitted to the qualified electors of said state at the annual election held on Monday the third day of August, 1857, for their approval or rejection.

Now therefore I, JAMES W. GRIMES, Governor of said state, by virtue of the authority conferred upon me, hereby declare the said new constitution to be adopted, and declare it to be the supreme law of the state of Iowa.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Iowa.

The general assembly may provide by law for the condemnation of such real estate as shall be necessary for the construction and maintenance of such drains, ditches and levees, and prescribe the method of making such condemnation.

NOTE—This amendment was proposed by the general assembly of 1906; re-adopted by the general assembly of 1907; ratified at the election of November 3, 1908, and certified adopted on November 23, 1908.

Not all the offices were occupied for more than two years thereafter. On the main floor is located the Supreme Court rooms and the Judges' Chambers. On this floor is also located the offices of the Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor of State, Treasurer of State, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Insurance Department, Attorney General, Clerk of Supreme Court, Railroad Commission and Secretary of Agriculture. The law department of the state library is on the second floor and is one of the most complete in the country. In the House has been installed an automatic electric voting device which supplants the roll call on votes in the legislature.

No person is eligible who has not been a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state two years next preceding the election, and attained the age of thirty years at the time of said election.

He is commander-in-chief of the military forces of the state.

He transacts all executive business with the officers of government, civil and military, and may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

When any office, from any cause, becomes vacant, and no mode is provided by the constitution and laws for filling such vacancy, the governor has power to fill such vacancy, by granting a commission, which expires at the end of the next session of the general assembly, or at the next election by the people.

He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the general assembly by proclamation and shall state to both houses when assembled, the purpose for which they shall have convened.

He is required to communicate, by message, to the general assembly, at every regular session, the condition of the state, and may make such recommendations to the body as he shall judge expedient.

In case of disagreement between the two houses with respect to the time of adjournment, the governor has power to adjourn the general assembly to such time as he may think proper; but no such adjournment shall be beyond the time fixed for the regular meeting of the next general assembly.

All bills must be submitted to him for approval, and a two-thirds vote of both branches of the legislature is required to pass a bill over his veto.

The governor has power to grant reprieves, commutation and pardons, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law. Upon conviction for treason, he has power to suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the general assembly at its next meeting. He has power to remit fines and forfeitures, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; and shall report to the general assembly, at its next meeting, each case of reprieve, commutation or pardon granted, and the reason therefor.

He appoints all principal officers of the state not elected by the people, and certain officers connected with the state government, by and with the consent of the senate.

He signs patents for state lands, and appoints and commissions notaries public and commissioners in other states to take acknowledgment of deeds for this state.

He may demand fugitives from justice from the executives of other states, and may issue warrants, upon the requests of other governors, for fugitives found in this state.

In case of the death, impeachment, resignation, removal from office, or other disability of the governor, the powers and duties of that office devolve upon the lieutenant-governor, for the residue of the term, or until the governor shall be acquitted, or the disability removed.

The lieutenant-governor is president of the senate, but can only vote when the senate is equally divided. In case of his death or other disability incapacitating him from discharging the duties of his office, the same devolve upon the president pro tempore of the senate.

The public revenues of the state are received and disbursed by the treasury department; books are kept in which are recorded the names of all persons from whom money for any purpose is received, the date received, the purpose for which the money was remitted, and the amount thereof. Receipts in duplicate are issued for each item received, and the duplicate is filed with the auditor of state. When remittance of state dues is made by bank draft, check or certificate of deposit, such draft, check or certificate must be deposited for collection in some bank in the city of Des Moines which has been previously designated as a depository for state funds, and no receipt for any sum remitted by check or draft is issued by the treasurer until the depository receiving deposit notifies the department of the collection thereof.

All county recorders and superintendents of schools are required to remit to the treasurer of state on or before the 15th of each month all state moneys received by them during the preceding calendar month. All county treasurers are required to remit to the treasurer of state on or before the 15th of each month for the per capita costs of patients maintained in the various state institutions and who are residents of their counties, as certified to him by the county auditor, and to report to the treasurer at the same time the collection during the preceding month of taxes belonging to the state. The law provides that when the cash balance of general revenue funds in the state treasury is reduced below $2,000,000.00 the treasurer of state may draw upon each county treasurer in proportion to the amount in his possession, a sum sufficient in the aggregate to increase said cash balance to an amount not to exceed $3,000,000.00. The same provision governs the primary road fund except that the minimum is $100,000.00 and the maximum $500,000. The soldiers' bonus tax fund, collected by county treasurers, is drawn into the state treasury only at such times and in such amounts as is necessary to pay the interest and bonds as due.

All elective and appointive state officers, boards, commissions, and departments, except the state fair board, the state board of education, and the board of control of state institutions, are required to within ten days succeeding the collection thereof, deposit with the treasurer of state 90% of all fees, commissions and moneys collected or received. The balance actually collected in cash, remaining in the hands of any officer, board or department cannot exceed the sum of $5,000.00 and no money collected is authorized to be held more than 30 days. Each deposit must be accompanied by an itemized statement of the sources from which the money was collected and showing the funds to be credited.

The treasurer of state, with the consent of the executive council, may designate banks in the state of Iowa as depositories of state funds in amounts not exceeding the limits to be fixed by said council. Each bank so designated shall pay interest on daily balances at the rate of 2½% at such times as may be agreed upon by the banks and the treasurer of state, with the approval of the executive council.

Disbursements from the state treasury are made only upon warrants issued by the auditor of state. A record is kept of each warrant paid, showing date of issue, date of payment, to whom paid and upon what account drawn. During the last biennial period the disbursements amounted to $86,983,544.14 and the receipts were $91,387,800.87.

An act of the forty-first general assembly requires the treasurer of state to collect from distributors a license fee of two cents per gallon on all gasoline used in the state for any purpose whatsoever. Provision is made for the refund of the license fee paid when the gasoline is used for certain purposes. One-third of the proceeds is distributed to the primary road fund, one-third to county road fund and one-third to township road fund. The forty-second general assembly authorized an additional license fee of one cent a gallon, effective July 4, 1927; the proceeds to be added to the primary road fund after deductions to cover certain bridge refunds to counties.

The state treasurer is the custodian of the permanent endowment fund of the state agricultural college. This fund amounts to about $680,000.00 and is loaned at not less than five per cent, secured by first mortgages upon real estate in Iowa. The interest only may be used by the college. This interest is payable to the state treasurer and is by him paid to the treasurer of the college. The accounts of the department are inspected quarterly under the direction of the governor.

The treasurer also handles funds which may be diverted under the public funds deposit guaranty act of the forty-first general assembly for covering losses of public funds deposited in any bank which may be placed in the hands of a receiver for liquidation.

The powers and duties of the board of railroad commissioners are: To generally supervise all railroads in the state, both steam and electric, except street railroads; to inquire into any neglect or violation of the laws of the state by any railroad corporation doing business therein; to make examinations and inspections of the physical condition, conduct and management of such railroads and report their condition to said companies; to stop and prevent railroad companies, under certain circumstances, from running or passing their trains over unsafe bridges; to adjudge changes in station houses, rolling stock and rates of fare; to pass on necessity for spur tracks to be constructed and maintained not exceeding three miles in length to an existing industry under terms and conditions approved by the commission as set out by law; to make reasonable rules for the crossing of steam and interurban railways and to require, when necessary, interlocking switches at railroad crossings; to make report on first Monday in December in each year to the governor of its doings for the preceding year, accompanied with appropriate suggestions and recommendations; to receive, tabulate and report upon the annual reports filed with it by railroad companies; to examine any of the books, papers or documents of any such corporation; to examine under oath employes of such corporation; to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses; to make and fix maximum schedules of freight rates for such corporations, such schedules to be deemed reasonable until disproved; to examine into rates in force, upon complaint that the rate charged by a railroad company, or that the maximum rates fixed by the commission are unreasonably high or discriminating, and to fix the rate again, which must not be higher than any rate established by law, such decision of the commission is prima facie evidence that the rate so made is a reasonable maximum rate; to bring suits to enforce its orders; to inquire into the management of the business of such carriers and to obtain from them full and complete information necessary to enable the commissioners to carry out the objects of the law; to hear, investigate and determine all complaints alleging unreasonable rates; unjust discrimination, undue preference, violation of the long and short haul clause, or other infractions of the commission law, and make proper orders thereupon; to establish joint through rates, upon application, over two or more connecting lines; and to have the same authority over express companies as the act confers concerning railroads.

Before a railroad company may appropriate coal, coke or oil received for shipment, it must first secure the written consent of the railroad commission.

Before any railway company may condemn lands for additional depot grounds, or for straightening or relocating track, the permission of the board must be obtained. Interlocking switches may be placed at grade railroad crossings or draw bridges, thus obviating the necessity of stopping trains before passing over such grade crossings or draw bridges, but before the interlocking switch may be used consent of the board must be obtained.

The thirty-fifth general assembly gave to the commission the power to grant to individuals or corporations "engaged in the manufacture, sale, or distribution for sale of electric current for light, power, or heating purposes, the right within the state, except in cities and towns, to erect and maintain poles, wires, towers, fixtures and other necessary construction for the purpose of conducting electricity for lighting, power and heating purposes over, along and across any public land, highways or streams or the lands of any person or persons, and to acquire the necessary interests in real estate therefor." It also provided that transmission lines proceeding under the provisions of the law should be subject to "such reasonable regulations as the commission may from time to time, prescribe."

The board is directed by an act of the thirty-ninth general assembly to "undertake and carry forward such investigation and preparation as shall be necessary to properly represent the interests of the state in connection with the valuation of the property of common carriers now being conducted by the interstate commerce commission."

The thirty-ninth general assembly authorized the railroad commission upon application to them to issue to any warehouseman a license for the conduct of a bonded warehouse under the provisions of chapter 119, laws of the thirty-ninth general assembly, and such rules and regulations as might be made thereunder.

The fortieth general assembly conferred on the commission the power to issue certificates authorizing motor carriers to operate over the public highways of the state, upon a showing that the proposed service would promote "the public convenience" and authorized the board to prescribe rules and regulations for the operation of motor vehicles used by such carriers "for the protection and safety of the public." The forty-first general assembly revised the laws on this subject, but left their administration with the railroad commission.

The forty-third general assembly provided for the supervision or regulation by the commission of persons operating motor trucks principally used for the public transportation of freight for compensation, not operating over regular routes nor between fixed termini. It also provided that the cost of regulating truck operators and motor carriers and the maintenance of the motor carrier department be paid from fees and taxes collected from such carriers.

Under the provisions of senate file 285 of the forty-third general assembly before an airport is acquired by any city or town the plans and specifications must be approved by the board.

COMMERCE COUNSEL

The thirty-fourth general assembly created the office of commerce counsel, to be appointed by the board of railroad commissioners for a term of four years, subject to confirmation by senate. The law provides that the counsel may appoint assistants, subject to the approval of the board of railroad commissioners. The duties of the office briefly are as follows:

The legal advisor of the board of railroad commissioners. To investigate and present matters with reference to interstate rates to the board of railroad commissioners, prosecute the same before said board, or before any court to which same may be taken. To investigate on his own motion, or at the request of the board, all matters involving interstate rates in which the people of Iowa are interested, and present the same to the interstate commerce commission and prosecute same to the final determination. To act as attorney for and represent the board of railroad commissioners in all courts of this state or of the United States, in which the validity of any order of said board is in issue; to institute and prosecute in any of the courts any and all suits necessary to the proper enforcement of any rule or order of said railroad commissioners or make defense therein whereever said rule or order may be called in question.

The superintendent of banking is the head of the banking department of Iowa and has general control, supervision and direction of all banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of Iowa and he is charged with the execution of the laws of the state relating to banking, including the public funds deposit guaranty act passed by the forty-first general assembly.

The deputy superintendent and bank examiners are appointed by the superintendent of banking, and their salaries are fixed by him within certain limits prescribed by law. The banking department is self-supporting.

The superintendent of banking is ex-officio a member and chairman of the state banking board created by act of the forty-first general assembly. This board acts in an advisory capacity concerning all matters pertaining to the banking department and the Iowa banking laws. There are four other members, appointive by the governor, with compensation of $10 a day and expenses while engaged in the state's business.

The work of the department of banking has increased greatly during the last few years on account of the superintendent of banking being the official receiver of all closed state and savings banks and trust companies. The total expense of all receivership trusts averages four and three-tenths per cent on the amount collected. The interest collected on notes and bank balances has been more than the total expense.

Since July 1, 1913, Workmen's Compensation has been provided for workmen injured in industrial pursuits, where such injury arises out of and in the course of the employment. Agricultural, clerical and domestic employment are excluded. Employers may insure with authorized companies for the payment of workmen's compensation, or upon a proper showing may be granted the right to carry their own insurance. All employers of labor are liable under the terms of law in any event. Compensation to injured workmen is upon the general basis of 60 per cent of the average wages or earnings with a maximum payment of $15 per week. In case of disagreement between employers and employees provision is made for arbitration in which case the commissioner or his deputy is chairman of the arbitration committee. By agreement the two additional arbitrators may be dispensed with. The Commissioner reviews appeals from the arbitration orders and there is provision for appeal to the district court and supreme court. There is a two-year time limitation on claims for injuries. Employees of the state are compensated by the state and all counties and other political divisions of the state, except townships, are under the law. All employers are obligated to make reports of accidents directly to the industrial commissioner and record is kept of all settlements. Where employers of labor reject the provision of the law, as provided by statute, they deprive themselves of common law defenses in damage cases. Settlements for injured workmen number about 5,000 annually.

IOWA STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION

COMMISSIONERS: C. C. RIEPE, Burlington; H. E. DEAN, Ocheyedan; H. A. DARTING, Glenwood; CLIFFORD NILES, Anamosa; T. J. O'DONNELL, Dubuque. Salary $4,000.

The highway commission was first established in Iowa under chapter 105, acts of the thirtieth general assembly, which directed the Iowa State College as an institution to act as the highway commission for the state. In 1913 the thirty-fifth general assembly reorganized the entire system of road administration and created a highway commission of three members, one of whom should be the dean of engineering at Ames. In 1927 the forty-second general assembly increased the number of members of the commission to five and passed what is known as the state control law giving the commission full control over construction and maintenance of the primary road system and primary road fund. In addition to salary the commissioners receive expenses while on duty.

Under the secondary road bill passed by the forty-third general assembly the commission on request of a local board of supervisors shall advise with the board on the manner of constructing and maintaining secondary roads. Before a board of supervisors can issue anticipatory certificates it must "seek the advice of the state highway commission and issue said certificates to an amount not exceeding fifty per cent of the estimated funds which will accrue to the secondary road construction fund during any stated period of from one to two years."

Under a law passed by the forty-third general assembly all patrolmen and maintenance engineers are designated peace officers and have authority to arrest violators of the authorized rules, regulations and orders of the highway commission and of the law pertaining to the primary highways of the state.

The highway commission is required to file with the county auditor and recorder a map of the right of way on the completion of any primary road paving or grading project.

FUNCTIONS OF STATE FAIR BOARD

The Iowa State Fair as an institution has existed since the first fair was held at Fairfield October 25-26 and 27, 1854, but it remained for the fortieth general assembly in 1923 and the extra session thereof to set out the Iowa State Fair Board as a separate and distinct department.

Previous to 1923 the fair was operated under the state department of agriculture. The fortieth general assembly, however, created a new department of agriculture, consolidating therewith a number of other departments and at the extra session the law was passed creating the state fair board, effective October 28, 1924.

The law provides for a state agricultual convention to be held at the state capitol in Des Moines on the second Wednesday in December of each year. The delegates to this convention are the officers and members of the state fair board; the president, secretary or accredited delegate of each of the county and district fairs; the president or accredited representative of the following organizations; each farmers' institute organized according to law and receiving state aid; the State Horticultural Society; the Iowa State Dairy Association; the Iowa Beef Producers' Association and the Iowa Corn and Small Grain Growers' Association. In counties where no fair is held the board of supervisors may appoint a delegate.

The convention elects a president and a vice president for a term of one year, and a director from each congressional district for a term of two years. The directors from the even numbered districts are elected on the even year and those from the odd numbered districts on the odd year. The secretary and treasurer are elected annually by the state fair board. The law fixes the compensation of the president, vice president and directors at ten dollars ($10) per day and expenses while in attendance at board and committee meetings. The law also fixes the maximum amount to be paid the treasurer at $250 and the secretary at $4,000 annually.

By statute the state fair board is made the custodian of the state fair grounds and the board of managers of the annual state fair. The state makes no regular appropriations for the operating expense of the state fair. The law specifically provides that all operating expense, maintenance, etc., shall be paid out of the receipts of the state fair unless there is a special appropriation providing for same. The law also provides that the state will not be liable for any debts incurred by the board. The state has appropriated since 1902, $867,000 for buildings, $83,013 for additional land, $14,000 for sanitary sewer system, and $28,280 for paving assessments against the grounds. In the same period $150,700 has been appropriated for insurance premiums and maintenance of grounds and buildings.

During this same twenty-seven year period there has been expended from the fair receipts, $894,501 for buildings and other improvements, $223,808.00 for insurance premiums and maintenance of the grounds and buildings, and the entire operating expense of the fair amounting to $4,881,681.00.

The inventory taken November 30, 1928, shows the present value of the grounds and buildings to be worth $1,976,357.57. This inventory takes into consideration the original cost of all permanent buildings and other improvements with the usual annual depreciation. It is safe to say that the replacement value of buildings and other improvements would be more than double the amount carried in the inventory.

The title to the state fair grounds and all property is held in the name of the state of Iowa and all deeds and abstracts are on file in the auditor of state's office.

The general assembly in 1884 provided for the creation of the bureau of labor statistics, the appointment of a commissioner, defining his duties, and his tenure of office. The work as outlined was purely statistical and was designed for the purpose of making inquiry into the conditions surrounding the employment of labor, its connection with the development of industries both mechanical and those arising from the natural resources of the state, the advantages and inducements offered in various localities for the establishment of desirable industries, the extent and productive value of industries already established and information relative to the home life and general welfare of the workers.

The inspection of factories, mercantile establishments, theaters, buildings, etc., embracing employment of over a half million workers, is one of the most important services the bureau renders to the state.

Under jurisdiction of the bureau of labor are laws relating to health and safety in factories, work shops, mercantile establishments, theaters, elevators, etc., the fire escape law, child labor law, inspection of employment bureaus, both public and private, arbitration and conciliation, report of accidents.

Another service of the bureau is that rendered by the state free employment bureau. Through cooperation of the state and federal governments under direction of the labor commissioner the state-federal employment service actually supplied workers for 60,609 jobs during the biennial period ending June 30, 1928. Of these, 12,495 were farm jobs.

After eleven years' feeble existence as a territorial library, Iowa's state library came into being as such in 1848.

The territorial library in its time had two distinguished librarians, James Clarke, afterward governor of the territory of Iowa, and Theodore S. Parvin, afterward founder of the Masonic library, Cedar Rapids, and author of many valuable contributions to Iowa history.

While the state library's legal existence began with the year 1848—eighty years ago, its existence as a general library began seventy-six years ago, and it owes its enlargement to the foresight and persistence of Governor Hempstead, and the liberal view of a majority of the fourth general assembly.

In 1898, fifty years after the birth of the state library, the present incumbent on entering upon his duties found the number of volumes of record in both departments of the library to be 57,501. Of these 2,500 were included in the traveling library section which in 1900 were turned over to the Iowa library commission, thus reducing the number to 55,001.

Thirty resultful years have elapsed since then.

In 1900, "the miscellaneous portion of the state library" was consolidated with the historical department; but that department was placed under direct supervision of the library board and not made a department of the state library.

The total number of books of record, as per inventory, in the several departments of the state library on June 30, 1926, was 193,994

The total additions to the several departments during the period ending June 30, 1928, was 9,646

These additions make a grand total of books in the state library, June 30, 1928, of 203,640

The additions during the last biennial period by departments are as follows:

To the general library 3,942

To the law and legislative reference department 2,358

To the economics and sociology department 1,264

To the medical department 2,082

Figures do not alone attest the growth of a library in usefulness; but they do show the physical growth and strength. As has already been shown in the two departments in existence in 1898, when the present incumbent entered upon his duties as state librarian, there were of record 55,001 volumes. In the four departments in operation in 1928—thirty years later—there were of record 203,640 volumes—an increase of 270 per cent.

In the library division of the historical department special efforts are made to collect works of state and general western history, biography and genealogy, war histories, works relating to the North American Indians, county histories, maps, Iowa pamphlets, biographies, documents relating to early settlers and settlements and every species of data which can throw light upon local, state, or western history.

The museum includes many remarkable specimens of mammals and birds mounted by the director who is a taxidermist. The mammals include moose, buffalo, elk, deer, wolves, foxes and other animals. There are several large cases of mounted birds such as eagles, pelicans, loons, and wild turkeys. Indian relics and handiwork, weapons used in the nation's wars, historic medals, pottery and many other items are preserved. For lack of space many World war trophies are still stored at Camp Dodge. The museum is open to visitors every day in the year.

NEWSPAPER DIVISION

Special efforts are made to collect Iowa newspapers from the earliest dates to the present time. Three hundred weeklies and thirty dailies are currently received and the department endeavors to acquire all Iowa newspapers. It has ceased the collection of papers from other states, with the exception of the New York Times.

PUBLIC ARCHIVES DIVISION

The public archives material is derived from the state departments, boards, bureau, etc., and dates from 1838 down to a ten-year period prior to the date of removal. These materials are taken from the vaults, garrets and storage places and in most cases they are a chaotic mass covered with dust and dirt. These must all be read, classified, cleansed, repaired, filed and indexed.

The thirty-ninth general assembly approved the federal law of June 2, 1920, called the industrial rehabilitation act, for operation in Iowa. A monthly report of the general conditions of all mines is made to the mine inspectors and a general report of the conditions of the mines of the state, tonnage, accidents, number of employes, and other information relative to the coal industry, is published every two years. Copies of the state mining laws are also published and circulated. Blue prints of maps of all mines in the state, brought up to date once each year, are on file in the offices of the mine inspectors subject to public inspection. A secretary, elected by the inspectors, has charge of the general correspondence and books in the office, as the duties of the three inspectors keep them almost constantly in the field.

The present geological survey was organized in 1892 and since that time has been engaged in two lines of research. The first of these is the detailed study of the geology of the state by counties. In this work all the natural features of interest and value are studied and described, such as the general character of the surface, its soils, water courses, deposits of valuable minerals and other topics.

The second line of work has been that of special investigation of the minerals of the state. In this work studies have been made of the coal and peat beds, lead and zinc, gypsum, clays and shales, limestone and sandstone, and the surface and underground water resources. The different geological formations are being studied as units.

For several years past the state survey has co-operated with the national survey in the making of topographic maps of the Des Moines valley. These maps show the character of the surface, the drainage, and elevations above sea level, as well as cultural features. They are of especial value in coal prospecting, engineering and drainage prospects.

The board of control of state institutions was created under the provisions of chapter 118, laws of the twenty-seventh general assembly, which, with the amendments thereto, clothes the board with full power to manage, control and govern, subject only to the limitations contained in the act, the following named institutions:

Soldiers' Home at Marshalltown; Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Davenport; Institution for Feeble-Minded Children at Glenwood; State Sanatorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis at Oakdale; Training School for Boys at Eldora; Training School for Girls at Mitchellville; Mount Pleasant State Hospital at Mount Pleasant; Independence State Hospital at Independence; Clarinda State Hospital at Clarinda; Cherokee State Hospital at Cherokee; Hospital for Female Inebriates at Mount Pleasant; Hospital for Male Inebriates at Independence; State Penitentiary at Fort Madison; Men's Reformatory at Anamosa; Women's Reformatory at Rockwell City; Hospital for Epileptics and School for Feeble-Minded at Woodward; Juvenile Home, Toledo.

The board is required to inspect county and private institutions in which insane persons are kept, associations and societies receiving friendless children and detention homes provided for juvenile offenders.

Prior to July 1, 1898, the foregoing state institutions, except the reformatory and penitentiary, were in charge of separate boards, each of which had its officers and each had a secretary and treasurer.

The board of control was organized on April 6, 1898, and took full control, as provided by statute, on July 1, 1898, of the institutions subject to its control. At that time the various boards of trustees and commissioners ceased to exist.

The board is required to investigate the management and financial condition of the state institutions under its control, to determine questions as to the sanity of patients in state hospitals, and to determine when persons shall be admitted to them as state charges, and is required to divide the state into hospital districts. It is required to make biennial reports to the governor and legislature showing the cost of operating the institutions for the preceding two years and to visit all institutions twice each year. Some member of the board or its agent is required to visit each hospital for insane once each month. The board is required to meet the superintendents and other heads of institutions in quarterly conferences, to gather statistics, to publish a bulletin, to require official bonds of certain institution officers to make a semiannual invoice of all the stores of the institutions, to fix annually the salaries of officers and employees not fixed by law, and to perform other duties provided by law.

IOWA SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND—VINTON

Superintendent, Francis Eber Palmer; physician, J. E. Luckey, M.D.; and visiting ophthalmic surgeon, head of Department, State University.

The aim and purpose of the Iowa School for the Blind is purely educational. The course of study includes not only the subjects leading up to and required for admission to the colleges and the university of the state, but also subjects that aim to prepare our students for some of the occupations in which it has been demonstrated that the blind are usually successful. After a pupil of this school reaches the high school department, he is given some latitude in the choice of courses of study, and in the making of his choice he always has the guidance and advice of teachers and matrons. However, the courses are so arranged that a student who chooses one course, say, one of the vocational courses of study, has the benefit of subjects in other courses. In fact, both literary and industrial work is required of all students, besides some music.

IOWA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF—COUNCIL BLUFFS

Superintendent, O. L. McIntire, M.A.; physician, McM. Hanchett, M.D.; steward, John F. Schultz; and matron, Thelma Sprague, M.A.

HISTORICAL

The Iowa School for the deaf was founded in 1885, in answer to the demand that the deaf children of the state be given the same opportunity for an education that was provided for those who could hear. Because such deaf children are fewer and very much scattered, as well as to secure better grading, it was found more economical to get them together and provide board as well as tuition. The school was first located at Iowa City and later moved to Council Bluffs. In 1902 fire completely destroyed the main building which housed the executive quarters and dormitories for pupils. A substantial fireproof structure now stands in its place where sufficient room is provided for 300 pupils. A separate building to accommodate forty-five of the younger pupils is also provided. More than ninety per cent of the pupils are taught by means of the oral method, which employs for the purpose, speech, lip-reading and writing. A well equipped industrial department is maintained for the purpose of teaching trades. Students become skilled workmen and graduates, with remarkably few exceptions, are self-supporting, useful citizens of the state.

SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

ORGANIZATION

The supreme court consists of nine judges, five of whom constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but one alone may adjourn from day to day, or to a particular day, or until the next term.

The judge whose term first expires is the chief justice, and so on in rotation, except when the terms of two of the justices expire at the same time the senior in age serves first as chief justice.

JURISDICTION

The supreme court has appellate jurisdiction only in cases in chancery and constitutes a court for the correction of errors at law. It has appellate jurisdiction over all judgments and decisions of all courts of record, except as otherwise provided by law.

An appeal may also be taken to the supreme court from:

1. An order made affecting a substantial right in an action, when such order, in effect, determines the action and prevents a judgment from which an appeal might be taken.
2. A final order made in special actions affecting a substantial right therein, or made on a summary application in an action for judgment;
3. An order which grants or refuses, continues or modifies a provisional remedy; grants or refuses, dissolves or refuses to dissolve an injunction or attachment; or grants or refuses a new trial; or sustains or overrules a demurrer;
4. An intermediate order involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision;
5. An order or judgment on habeas corpus.

If any of the above orders or judgments are made or rendered by a judge, the same are reviewable, the same as if made by a court.

The supreme court has power to issue all writs and processes necessary to secure justice to parties, and to enforce its appellate jurisdiction, and it may exercise supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals.

It may enforce its mandates upon inferior courts and officers by fine and imprisonment, which imprisonment may continue until mandates are obeyed.

SALARY

The salary of each justice is $7,500 a year. Each general assembly also appropriates sufficient funds for the payment of stenographers, bailiffs and such other incidental expenses as may be incurred by the court.

THE DISTRICT COURT OF IOWA

There are at the present time sixty-nine judges of the district court of the state of Iowa. The state is divided into twenty-one judicial districts and each district is entitled to from one to six judges, the number being fixed by statute. The judges are elected for terms of four years and receive an annual salary of $4,000; by act of the forty-third general assembly increased to $5,000, the increase, under the constitution, not to apply to any sitting judge during the term for which he had been elected. Also district judges receive necessary hotel expenses not to exceed $3 per day when away from home, and transportation expenses. Each judge appoints a shorthand reporter, who receives $10 per day for each day's attendance upon said court, and in case the per diem does not equal $2,400, then the county or counties composing the district make up the deficiency in proportion to the number of days of court held in such county or counties.

The following is in sections 10761 and 10766 of the code governing the jurisdiction of the district court.

The district court shall have general original and exclusive jurisdiction of all actions, proceedings and remedies, both civil and criminal, except in cases where exclusive or concurrent jurisdiction is or may hereafter be conferred upon some other court or tribunal by the constitution and laws of the state, and shall have and exercise all the powers usually possessed and exercised by courts of record. It shall also possess and exercise jurisdiction in all appeals and writs of error taken in civil and criminal actions and special proceedings authorized to be taken from all inferior courts, tribunals, boards or officers, under any provisions of the laws of this state, and shall have a general supervision thereof, in all matters, to prevent and correct abuses, where no other remedy is provided.

The district court of each county shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction to probate the wills of, and to grant administration upon the estates of, all persons who at the time of their death were residents of the county and of nonresidents of the state who die leaving property within the county subject to administration, or whose property is afterwards brought into the county.

To appoint guardians of the persons and property of all persons resident in the county subject to guardianship, or whose property is afterwards brought into the county.

It shall have jurisdiction in all matters in relation to the appointment of executors and trustees, and the management and disposition of the property of and settlement of such estates; provided, that where jurisdiction has heretofore been acquired, the same shall be retained until such estate is closed.

The district court shall succeed to and exercise full authority and jurisdiction over the records of the circuit court, and may enforce all judgments, decrees and orders thereof in the same manner and to the same extent as it may exercise like jurisdiction and authority over its own records, and for the purpose of the issuance of process, and of any and all other acts necessary to the due and efficient enforcement of the orders, judgments and decrees of the circuit courts the records thereof shall be deemed records of the district court.

Transcripts and process from the judgments, decrees and records of the circuit court shall be issued by the clerk of the district court and under the seal of his office.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

Any city, whether organized under a special charter, commission form of government or the general law for the incorporation of cities or towns, now or hereafter having a population of five thousand or more, as shown by the last preceding state or United States census, may establish a municipal court. All civil townships in which said city or any part thereof is located shall constitute the municipal court district.

The salary of municipal court judge is $3,000 in cities with population less than 30,000, $3,400 with population between 30,000 and less than 75,000, $3,600 with population 75,000 or over. Compensation of court reporter is fixed by the judge at not to exceed $8.00 per day. Salary of clerk is $1,800, $2,200 and $2,600 according to population of city as above indicated.

Jurisdiction. Municipal courts have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in all civil matters, where the amount in controversy does not exceed one thousand dollars, except in probate matters, actions for divorce, alimony, separate maintenance, those directly affecting the title to real estate, and juvenile proceedings unless otherwise authorized.

In all criminal matters the court shall exercise the jurisdiction conferred on justice of the peace courts, mayors' courts, and police courts, except that the mayor's court of any incorporated city or town within such municipal court district other than the city in which said court is established shall have exclusive jurisdiction of prosecutions for violations of city ordinances.

In all matters of which the municipal court has jurisdiction, it has the same powers in reference to injunctions, writs, orders and other proceedings in and out of court as are possessed by the district court and the judges thereof.

THE LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The legislative department of the state of Iowa is vested in a general assembly, which consists of a senate and house of representatives.

The senate consists of fifty members. Senators are elected for terms of four years; twenty-one senators being elected at one general election and twenty-nine at the next.

The house of representatives consists at present of one hundred and eight members, who are elected for a term of two years.

Sessions of the general assembly are held biennially in the odd-numbered years, and they commence on the second Monday of January.

The compensation of the members of the forty-third general assembly was $1,000 for the session. This is in accordance with an act of the thirty-fourth general assembly which went into effect July 4, 1911. They were also allowed five cents a mile from their homes to the capital and return for traveling expenses. Members are permitted to draw such stationery as they need during the session, the cost to the state for the supplies varying from $1.50 to $14.00 per member. No allowance is permitted for postage. The forty-third general assembly passed an act allowing each member of the assembly not to exceed $500 per session to cover expenses while attending the session.

The lieutenant governor is the presiding officer of the senate. His pay is twice that of a member, being $2,000 for the session of the forty-third general assembly.

The speaker of the house is chosen by the members from among their own membership. His pay is twice that of a member, being $2,000 for the session.

The lieutenant governor appoints all committees in the senate and the speaker of the house all committees in the house.

In the regular proceedings of the senate motions made by members are not seconded but are put directly by the presiding officer, the formality of a second being waived. In the house all motions are seconded before being placed before the house by the speaker.

Sessions in both branches of the general assembly are opened by prayer. No regular chaplains are employed, but ministers from Des Moines and elsewhere over the state are assigned dates for these services and are allowed $5 for each opening prayer.

Bills passed are re-written (enrolled) by the enrolling clerk of the branch of the general assembly where the bill originates; they are then signed by the president of the senate and speaker of the house in presence of these respective bodies, in open session; then by the governor, if meeting with his approval, and then are filed with the secretary of state. Following adjournment they are printed under the direction of the superintendent of printing.

PLATFORM OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY, 1928

ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION, KANSAS CITY, JUNE 14, 1928

The republican party in national convention assembled presents to the people of the nation this platform of its principles, based on a record of its accomplishments, and asks and awaits a new vote of confidence. We reaffirm our devotion to the constitution of the United States and the principles and institution of the American system of representative government.

THE NATIONAL ADMINISTRATION—We indorse without qualification the record of the Coolidge administration.

The record of the republican party is a record of advancement of the nation. Nominees of republican national conventions have for fifty-two of the seventy-two years since the creation of our party been the chief executives of the United States. Under republican inspiration and largely under republican executive direction the continent has been bound with steel rails, the oceans and great rivers have been joined by canals, waterways have been deepened and widened for ocean commerce, and with all a high American standard of wage and living has been established.

By unwavering adherence to sound principles, through the wisdom of republican policies and the capacity of republican administrations, the foundations have been laid and the greatness and prosperity of the country firmly established.

Never has the soundness of republican policies been more amply demonstrated and the republican genius for administration been better exemplified than during the last five years under the leadership of President Coolidge.

No better guaranty of prosperity and contentment among all our people at home, no more reliable warranty of protection and promotion of American interests abroad can be given than the pledge to maintain and continue the Coolidge policies. This promise we give and will faithfully perform.

Under this administration the country has been lifted from the depths of a great depression to a level of prosperity. Economy has been raised to the dignity of a principle of government. A standard of character in public service has been established under the chief executive which has given to the people of the country a feeling of stability and confidence so all have felt encouraged to proceed on new undertakings in trade and commerce. A foreign policy based on the traditional American position and carried on with vision and steadfastness has extended American influence throughout the world and everywhere promoted and protected American interests.

The mighty contribution to general well-being which can be made by a government controlled by men of character and courage, whose abilities are equal to their responsibilities is self-evident and should not bind us to the consequences which its loss would entail. Under this administration a high level of wages and living has been established and maintained. The door of opportunity has been opened wide to all. It has given to our people greater comfort and leisure, and the mutual profit has been evident in the increasingly harmonious relations between employers and employees, and the steady rise by promotion of the men in the shops to places at the council tables of the industries. It has also been made evident by the increasing enrollments of our youth in the technical schools and colleges, the increase in savings and life-insurance accounts, and by our ability as a people to lend the hand of succor not only to those overcome by disasters in our own country but in foreign lands. With all there has been a steady decrease in the burden of federal taxation, releasing to the people the greatest possible portion of the results of their labor from government exactions.

For the republican party we are justified in claiming a major share of the credit for the position which the United States occupies today as the most favored-nation on the globe, but it is well to remember that the confidence and prosperity which we enjoy can be shattered, if not destroyed, if this belief in the honesty and sincerity of our government is in any way affected. A continuation of this great public peace of mind now existing, which makes for our material well-being, is only possible by holding fast to the plans and principles which have marked republican control.

The record of the present administration is a guaranty of what may be expected of the next. Our words have been made deeds. We offer not promises but accomplishments.

We stand for honesty in government, for the appointment of officials whose integrity can not be questioned. We deplore the fact that any official has ever fallen from this high standard and that certain American citizens of both parties have so far forgotten their duty as citizens as to traffic in national interests for private gain. We have prosecuted and shall always prosecute any official who subordinates his public duty to his personal interest.

The Rights of the States—We believe in the essential unity of the American people. Sectionalism in any form is destructive of national life. The federal government should zealously protect the national and international rights of its citizens. It should be equally zealous to respect and maintain the rights of the states and territories and to uphold the vigor and balance of our dual system of government. The republican party has always given its energies to supporting the government in this direction when any question has arisen.

There are certain other well-defined federal obligations, such as interstate commerce, the development of rivers and harbors, and the guarding and conservation of national resources. The effort which, however, is being continually made to have the federal government move into the field of state activities has never had, and never will have the support of the republican party. In the majority of the cases state citizens and officers are most pressing in their desire to have the federal government take over the state functions. This is to be deplored for it weakens the sense of initiative and creates a feeling of dependence which is unhealthy and unfortunate for the whole body politic.

There is a real need in the country today to revitalize fundamental principles; there is a real need of restoring the individual and local sense of responsibility and self-reliance; there is a real need for the people once more to grasp the fundamental fact that under our system of government they are expected to solve many problems themselves through their municipal and state governments, and to combat the tendency that is all too common to turn to the federal government as the easiest and least burdensome method of lightening their own responsibilities.

Public Economy—The citizen and taxpayer has a natural right to be protected from unnecessary and wasteful expenditures. This is a rich but also a growing nation with constantly increasing legitimate demands for public funds. If we are able to spend wisely and meet these requirements, it is first necessary that we save wisely. Spending extravagantly not only deprives men through taxation of the fruits of their labor, but oftentimes means the postponement of vitally important public works. We commend President Coolidge for his establishment of this fundamental principle of sound administration and pledge ourselves to live up to the high standard he has set.

Finance and Taxation—The record of the United States treasury under Secretary Mellon stands unrivaled and unsurpassed. The finances of the nation have been managed with sound judgment. The financial policies have yielded immediate and substantial results.

In 1921 the credit of our government was at a low ebb. We were burdened with a huge public debt, a load of war taxes, which in variety and weight exceeded anything in our national life, while vast unfunded intergovernmental debts disorganized the economic life of the debtor nations and seriously affected our own by reason of the serious obstacles which they presented to commercial intercourse. This critical situation was evidenced by a serious disturbance in our own life which made for unemployment.

Today all these major financial problems have been solved.

The Public Debt—In seven years the public debt has been reduced by $6,411,000,000. From March, 1921, to September, 1928, over $11,000,000,000 of securities, bearing high rates of interest, will have been retired or refunded into securities bearing a low rate of interest, while Liberty bonds, which were selling below par, now command a premium. These operations have resulted in an annual saving in interest charges of not less than $275,000,000, without which the most recent tax-reduction measure would not have been made possible. The republican party will continue to reduce our national debt as rapidly as possible and in accordance with the provision of existing laws and the present program.

Tax Reduction—Wise administrative management under republican control and direction has made possible a reduction of over a billion eight hundred million dollars a year in the tax bill of the American people. Four separate tax reduction measures have been enacted, and millions of those least able to pay have been taken from the tax rolls.

Excessive and uneconomic rates have been radically modified, releasing for industrial and pay-roll expansion and development great sums of money which formerly were paid in taxes to the federal government.

Practically all the war taxes have been eliminated and our tax system has been definitely restored to a peace-time basis.

We pledge our party to a continuation of these sound policies and to such further reduction of the tax burden as the condition of the treasury may from time to time permit.

Tariff—We reaffirm our belief in the protective tariff as a fundamental and essential principle of the economic life of this nation. While certain provisions of the present law require revision in the light of changes in the world competitive situation since its enactment, the record of the United States since 1922 clearly shows that the fundamental protective principle of the law has been fully justified. It has stimulated the development of our natural resources, provided fuller employment at higher wages through the promotion of industrial activity, assured thereby the continuance of the farmer's major market, and further raised the standards of living and general comfort and well-being of our people. The great expansion in the wealth of our nation during the past fifty years, and particularly in the past decade, could not have been accomplished without a protective tariff system designed to promote the vital interests of all classes.

Nor have these manifest benefits been restricted to any particular section of the country. They are enjoyed throughout the land either directly or indirectly. Their stimulus has been felt in industries, farming sections, trade circles, and communities in every quarter. However, we realize that there are certain industries which can not now successfully compete with foreign producers because of lower foreign wages and a lower cost of living abroad, and we pledge the next republican congress to an examination and where necessary a revision of these schedules to the end that American labor in these industries may again command the home market, may maintain its standard of living, and may count upon steady employment in its accustomed field.

Adherence to that policy is essential for the continued prosperity of the country. Under it the standard of living of the American people has been raised to the highest levels ever known. Its example has been eagerly followed by the rest of the world whose experts have repeatedly reported with approval the relationship of this policy to our prosperity, with the resultant emulation of that example by other nations.

A protective tariff is as vital to American agriculture as it is to American manufacturing. The republican party believes that the home market, built up under the protective policy, belongs to the American farmer, and it pledges its support of legislation which will give this market to him to the full extent of his ability to supply it. Agriculture derives large benefits not only directly from the protective duties levied on competitive farm products of foreign origin but also, indirectly, from the increase in the purchasing power of American workmen employed in industries similarly protected. These benefits extend also to persons engaged in trade, transportation, and other activities.

The tariff act of 1922 has justified itself in the expansion of our foreign trade during the past five years. Our domestic exports have increased from 3.8 billions of dollars in 1922 to 4.8 billions in 1927. During the same period imports have increased from 3.1 billions to 4.4 billions. Contrary to the prophesies of its critics, the present tariff law has not hampered the natural growth in the exportation of the products of American agriculture, industry, and mining, nor has it restricted the importation of foreign commodities which this country can utilize without jeopardizing its economic structure.

The United States is the largest customer in the world today. If we were not prosperous and able to buy, the rest of the world also would suffer. It is inconceivable that American labor will ever consent to the abolition of protection, which would bring the American standard of living down to the level of that in Europe, or that the American farmer could survive if the enormous consuming power of the people in this country were curtailed and its market at home, if not destroyed, at least seriously impaired.

Foreign Debts—In accordance with our settled policy and platform pledges, debt settlement agreements have been negotiated with all of our foreign debtors with the exception of Armenia and Russia. That with France remains as yet unratified. Those with Greece and Austria are before the congress for necessary authority. If the French debt settlement be included, the total amount funded is $11,522,354,000. We have steadfastly opposed and will continue to oppose cancellation of foreign debts.

We have no desire to be oppressive or grasping, but we hold that obligations justly incurred should be honorably discharged. We know of no authority which would permit public officials, acting as trustees, to shift the burden of the war from the shoulders of foreign taxpayers to those of our own people. We believe that the settlements agreed to are fair to both the debtor nation and to the American taxpayer. Our debt commission took into full consideration the economic condition and resources of the debtor nations, and were ever mindful that they must be permitted to preserve and improve their economic position, to bring their budgets into balance, to place their currencies and finances on a sound basis, and to improve the standard of living of their people. Giving full weight to these considerations, we know of no fairer test than ability to pay, justly estimated.

The people can rely on the republican party to adhere to a foreign-debt policy now definitely established and clearly understood both at home and abroad.

Settlement of War Claims—A satisfactory solution has been found for the question of war claims.

Under the act approved by the president on March 10, 1928, a provision was made for the settlement of war claims of the United States and its citizens against the German, Austrian, and Hungarian governments, and of the claims of the nationals of these governments against the United States, and for the return to its owners of the property seized by the alien property custodian during the war, in accordance with our traditional policy of respect for private property.

Foreign Policies—We approve the foreign policies of the administration of President Coolidge. We believe they express the will of the American people in working actively to build up cordial international understanding that will make world peace a permanent reality. We indorse the proposal of the secretary of state for a multilateral treaty proposed to the principal powers of the world, and open to the signatures of all nations, to renounce war as an instrument of national policy and declaring in favor of pacific settlement of international disputes, the first step in outlawing war. The idea has stirred the conscience of mankind and gained widespread approval both of governments and of the people, and the conclusion of the treaty will be acclaimed as the greatest single step in history toward the conservation of peace.

In the same endeavor to substitute for war the peaceful settlement of international disputes the administration has concluded arbitration treaties in a form more definite and more inclusive than ever before, and plans to negotiate similar treaties with all countries willing in this manner to define their policy peacefully to settle justifiable disputes. In connection with these, we indorse the resolution of the sixth Pan American Conference, held at Havana, Cuba, in 1928, which called a conference on arbitration and conciliation to meet in Washington during the year, and express our earnest hope that such conference will greatly further the principles of international arbitration. We shall continue to demand the same respect and protection for the persons and property of American citizens in foreign countries that we cheerfully accord in this country to the persons and property of aliens.

The commercial treaties which we have negotiated and those still in the process of negotiation are based on strict justice among nations, equal opportunity for trade and commerce on the most favored-nation principle, and are simplified so as to eliminate the danger of misunderstanding. The object and the aim of the United States is to further the cause of peace, of strict justice between nations, with due regard for the rights of others in all international dealings. Out of justice grows peace. Justice and consideration have been and will continue to be the inspiration of our nation.

The record of the administration toward Mexico has been consistently friendly and with equal consistency have we upheld American rights. This firm and at the same time friendly policy has brought recognition of the inviolability of legally acquired rights. This condition has been reached without threat or without bluster, through a calm support of the recognized principles of international law, with due regard to the rights of a sister sovereign state. The republican party will continue to support American rights in Mexico as elsewhere in the world and at the same time to promote and strengthen friendship and confidence.

There has always been, as there always will be, a firm friendship with Canada. American and Canadian interests are in a large measure identical. Our relationship is one of fine mutual understanding, and the recent exchange of diplomatic officers between the two countries is worthy of commendation.

The United States has an especial interest in the advancement and progress of all the Latin American countries. The policy of the republican party will always be a policy of thorough friendship and co-operation. In the case of Nicaragua, we are engaged in co-operation with the government of that country upon the task of assisting to restore and maintain peace, order, and stability, and in no way to infringe upon her sovereign rights. The marines now in Nicaragua are there to protect American lives and property and to aid in carrying out an agreement whereby we have undertaken to do what we can to restore and maintain order and to insure a fair and free election. Our policy absolutely repudiates any idea of conquest or exploitation and is actuated solely by an earnest and sincere desire to assist a friendly and neighboring state which has appealed for aid in a great emergency. It is the same policy the United States has pursued in other cases in Central America.

The administration has looked with keen sympathy on the tragic events in China. We have avoided interference in the internal affairs of that unhappy nation merely keeping sufficient naval and military forces in China to protect the lives of the Americans who are there on legitimate business and in still larger numbers for nobly humanitarian reasons. America has not been stampeded into making reprisals but, on the other hand, has consistently taken the position of leadership among the nations in a policy of wise moderation. We shall always be glad to be of assistance to China when our duty is clear.

The republican party maintains the traditional American policy of non-interference in the political affairs of other nations. This government has definitely refused membership in the League of Nations and to assume any obligations under the covenant of the league.

On this we stand.

In accordance, however, with the long-established American practice of giving aid and assistance to other peoples, we have most usefully assisted by co-operation in the humanitarian and technical work undertaken by the league, without involving ourselves in European politics by accepting membership.

The republican party has always given and will continue to give its support to the development of American foreign trade, which makes for domestic prosperity. During this administration extraordinary strides have been made in opening up new markets for American produce and manufacture. Through these foreign contacts a mutually better international understanding has been reached which aids in the maintenance of world peace.

The republican party promises a firm and consistent support of American persons and legitimate American interests in all parts of the world. This support will never contravene the rights of other nations. It will always have in mind and support in every way the progressive development of international law, since it is through the operation of just laws, as well as through the growth of friendly understanding, that world peace will be made permanent. To that end the republican party pledges itself to aid and assist in the perfection of principles of international law and the settlement of international disputes.

Civil Service—The merit system in government service originated with and has been developed by the republican party. The great majority of our public-service employees are now secured through and maintained in the government-service rules. Steps have already been taken by the republican congress to make the service more attractive as to wages and retirement privileges, and we commend what has been done as a step in the right direction.

Agriculture—The agricultural problem is national in scope and, as such, is recognized by the republican party, which pledges its strength and energy to the solution of the same. Realizing that many farmers are facing problems more difficult than those which are the portion of many other basic industries, the party is anxious to aid in every way possible. Many of our farmers are still going through readjustment, a relic of the years directly following the great war. All the farmers are being called on to meet new and perplexing conditions created by foreign competition, the complexities of domestic marketing, labor problems, and a steady increase in local and state taxes.

The general depression in a great basic industry inevitably reacts upon the conditions in the country as a whole and can not be ignored. It is a matter of satisfaction that the desire to help in the correction of agricultural wrongs and conditions is not confined to any one section of our country or any particular group.

The republican party and the republican administration, particularly during the last five years, have settled many of the most distressing problems as they have arisen, and the achievements in aid of agriculture are properly a part of this record. The republican congresses have been most responsive in the matter of agricultural appropriations, not only to meet crop emergencies, but for the extension and development of the activities of the department of agriculture.

The protection of the American farmer against foreign farm competition and foreign trade practices has been vigorously carried on by the department of state. The right of the farmers to engage in collective buying and co-operative selling as provided for by the Capper-Volstead Act of 1922 has been promulgated through the department of agriculture and the department of justice, which have given most valuable aid and assistance to the heads of the farm organizations. The treasury department and the proper committees of congress have lightened the tax burden on farming communities, and through the federal farm-loan system there has been made available to the farmers of the nation $1,850,000,000 for loaning purposes at a low rate of interest, and through the intermediate-credit banks $655,000,000 of short-term credits have been made available to the farmers. The post office department has systematically and generously extended the rural free delivery routes into even the most sparsely settled communities.

When a shortage of transportation facilities threatened to deprive the farmers of their opportunity to reach waiting markets overseas, the president, appreciative and sensitive of the condition and the possible loss to the communities, ordered the reconditioning of shipping board vessels, thus relieving a great emergency.

Last, but not least, the federal tariff commission has at all times shown a willingness under the provisions of the flexible tariff act to aid the farmers when foreign competition, made possible by low wage scales abroad, threatened to deprive our farmers of their domestic markets. Under this act the president has increased duties on wheat, flour, mill feed, and dairy products. Numerous other farm products are now being investigated by the tariff commission.

We promise every assistance in the reorganization of the marketing system on sounder and more economical lines and, where diversification is needed, government financial assistance during the period of transition.

The republican party pledges itself to the enactment of legislation creating a federal farm board clothed with the necessary powers to promote the establishment of a farm marketing system of farmer owned and controlled stabilization corporations or associations to prevent and control surpluses through orderly distribution.

We favor adequate tariff protection to such of our agricultural products as are affected by foreign competition.

We favor, without putting the government into business, the establishment of a federal system of organization for co-operative and orderly marketing of farm products.

The vigorous efforts of this administration toward broadening our exports market will be continued.

The republican party pledges itself to the development and enactment of measures which will place the agricultural interests of America on a basis of economic equality with other industries to insure its prosperity and success.

Mining—The money value of the mineral products of the country is second only to agriculture. We lead the countries of the world in the production of coal, iron, copper, and silver. The nation suffers as a whole from any disturbance in the securing of any one of these minerals, and particularly when the coal supply is affected. The mining industry has always been self-sustaining, but we believe that the government should make every effort to aid the industry by protection by removing any restrictions which may be hampering its development and by increased technical and economic research investigations which are necessary for its welfare and normal development. The party is anxious, hopeful, and willing to assist in any feasible plan for the stabilization of the coal-mining industry which will work with justice to the miners, consumers, and producers.

Highways—Under the federal aid road act, adopted by the republican congress in 1921, and supplemented by generous appropriations each year, road construction has made greater advancement than for many decades previous. Improved highway conditions is a gauge of our rural developments and our commercial activity. We pledge our support to continued appropriations for this work commensurate with our needs and resources.

We favor the construction of roads and trails in our national forests necessary to their protection and utilization. In appropriations therefor the taxes which these lands would pay if taxable should be considered as a controlling factor.

LABOR—The labor record of the republican party stands unchallenged. For fifty-two of the seventy-two years of our national existence republican administrations have prevailed. Today American labor enjoys the highest wage and the highest standard of living throughout the world. Through the saneness and soundness of republican rule the American workman is paid a "real wage", which allows comfort for himself and his dependents, and an opportunity and leisure for advancement. It is not surprising that the foreign workman, whose greatest ambition still is to achieve a "living wage," should look with longing toward America as the goal of his desires.

The ability to pay such wages and maintain such a standard comes from the wisdom of the protective legislation which the republican party has placed upon the national statute books, the tariff which bars cheap foreign-made goods from the American market and provides continuity of employment for our workmen and fair profits for the manufacturers, the restriction of immigration which not only prevents the glutting of our labor market, but allows to our newer immigrants a greater opportunity to secure a footing in their upward struggle.

The party favors freedom in wage contracts, the right of collective bargaining by free and responsible agents of their own choosing, which develops and maintains that purposeful co-operation which gains its chief incentive through voluntary agreement.

We believe that injunctions in labor disputes have in some instances been abused and have given rise to a serious question for legislation.

The republican party pledges itself to continue its efforts to maintain this present standard of living and high wage scale.

TRANSPORTATION—Prompt and effective railroad service at the lowest rates which will provide for its maintenance and allow a reasonable return to the investor so they may be encouraged to advance new capital for acquired developments, has long been recognized by the republican party as a necessity of national existence.

We believe that the present laws under which our railroads are regulated are soundly based on correct principles, the spirit of which must always be preserved. Because, however, of changes in the public demands, trade conditions, and of the character of the competition, which even the greatest railroads are now being called upon to meet, we feel that in the light of this new experience possible modifications or amendments, the need of which is proved, should be considered.

The republican party initiated and set in operation the interstate commerce commission. This body has developed a system of railroad control and regulation which has given to the transportation public an opportunity not only to make suggestions for the improvement of railroad service, but to protest against discriminatory rates or schedules. We commend the work which that body is accomplishing under mandate of law in considering these matters and seeking to distribute equitably the burden of transportation between commodities based on their ability to bear the same.

COMMERCIAL AVIATION—Without governmental grants or subsidies and entirely by private initiative the nation has made extraordinary advances in the field of commercial aviation. Over 20,000 miles of airmail service privately operated are now being flown daily, and the broadening of this service is an almost weekly event. Because of our close relations with our sister republics on the south and our neighbor on the north it is fitting our first efforts should be to establish an air communication with Latin America and Canada.

The achievements of the aviation branches of the army and navy are all to the advantage of commercial aviation, and in the Mississippi flood disaster the work performed by civil and military aviators was of inestimable value.

The development of a system of aircraft registration, inspection, and control is a credit to the republican administration, which, quick to appreciate the importance of this new transportation development, created machinery for its safeguarding.

MERCHANT MARINE—The republican party stands for the American-built, American-owned, and American-operated merchant marine. The enactment of the White-Jones bill is in line with a policy which the party has long advocated.

Under this measure, substantial aid and encouragement are offered for the building in American yards of new and modern ships which will carry the American flag.

The republican party does not believe in government ownership or operation, and stands specifically for the sale of the present government vessels to private owners when appropriate arrangements can be made. Pending such a sale, and because private owners are not ready as yet to operate on certain of the essential trade routes, the bill enacted allows the maintenance of these necessary lines under government control till such transfer can be made.

Waterways and Flood Control—Cheaper transportation for bulk goods from the midwest agricultural sections to the sea is recognized by the republican party as a vital factor for the relief of agriculture. To that end we favor the continued development in inland and in intracoastal waterways as an essential part of our transportation system.

The republican administration during the last four years initiated the systematic development of the Mississippi system of inland transportation lanes, it proposes to carry on this modernization of transportation to speedy completion. Great improvements have been made during this administration in our harbors, and the party pledges itself to continue these activities for the modernization of our national equipment.

The Mississippi valley flood, in which 700,000 of our fellow citizens were placed in peril of life, and which destroyed hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of property, was met with energetic action by the republican administration.

During this disaster the president mobilized every public and private agency under the direction of Secretary Hoover, of the department of commerce, and Dwight Davis, the secretary of war. Thanks to their joint efforts, a great loss of life was prevented, and everything possible was done to rehabilitate the people in their homes and to relieve suffering and distress.

Congress promptly passed legislation authorizing the expenditure of $325,000,000 for the construction of flood-control works, which it is believed will prevent the recurrence of such a disaster.

Radio—We stand for the administration of the radio facilities of the United States under wise and expert government supervision, which will—

First. Secure to every home in the nation, whether city or country, the great educational and inspirational values of broadcast programs, adequate in number and varied in character; and Second. Assign the radio communication channels—regional, continental, and transoceanic—in the best interest of the American business man, the American farmer, and the American public generally.

Veterans—Our country is honored whenever it bestows relief on those who have faithfully served its flag. The republican party, appreciative of this solemn obligation and honor, has made its sentiments evident in congress. Our expenditures for the benefit of all our veterans now aggregate $750,000,000 annually. Increased hospital facilities have been provided, payments in compensation have more than doubled, and in the matter of rehabilitations, pensions, and insurance, generous provision has been made. The administration of laws dealing with the relief of veterans and their dependents has been a difficult task, but every effort has been made to carry service to the veteran and bring about not only a better and generous interpretation of the law, but a sympathetic consideration of the many problems of the veteran. Full and adequate relief for our disabled veterans is our aim, and we commend the action of congress in further liberalizing the laws applicable to veterans' relief.

Public Utilities—Republican congresses and administrations have steadily strengthened the interstate commerce commission. The protection of the public from exactions or burdens in rates for service by reason of monopoly control, and the protection of the smaller organizations from suppression in their own field, has been a fundamental idea in all regulatory enactments. While recognizing that at times federal regulations might be more effective than state regulations in controlling intrastate utilities, the party favors and has sustained state regulations, believing that such responsibility in the end will create a force of state public opinion which will be more effective in preventing discriminations and injustices.

Conservation and Reclamation—We believe in the practical application of the conservation principle by the wise development of our natural resources. The measure of development is our national requirement, and avoidance of waste so that future generations may share in this natural wealth. The republican policy is to prevent monopolies in the control and utilization of natural resources. Under the general leasing law, enacted by a republican congress, the ownership of the mineral estate remains in the government, but development occurs through private capital and energy. Important for the operation of this law is the classification and appraisement of public lands according to their mineral content and value. Over 500,000,000 acres of public land have been thus classified.

To prevent wasteful exploitation of our oil products, President Coolidge appointed an oil conservation board, which is now conducting an inquiry into all phases of petroleum production in the effort to devise a national policy for the conservation and proper utilization of our oil resources.

The republican party has been forehanded in assuring the development of water power in accordance with public interest. A policy of permanent public retention of the power sites on public land and power privileges in domestic and international navigable streams and one-third of the potential water-power resources in the United States on public domain has been assured by the federal water powers act, passed by a republican congress. Federal reclamation of arid lands is a republican policy, adopted under President Roosevelt, carried forward by succeeding republican presidents, and put upon a still higher plane of efficiency and production by President Coolidge. It has increased the wealth of the nation and made the west more prosperous.

An intensive study of the methods and practices of reclamation has been going on for the past four years under the direction of the department of the interior in an endeavor to create broader human opportunities and their financial and economic success. The money value of the crops raised on reclamation projects is showing a steady and gratifying increase, as well as the number of farms and people who have settled on the lands.

The continuation of a surplus of agricultural products in the selling markets of the world has influenced the departments to a revaluation of plans and projects. It has adopted a ten-year program for the completion of older projects and will hold other suggestions in abeyance until the surveys now under way as to the entire scope of the work are completed.

Law Enforcement—We reaffirm the American constitutional doctrine as announced by George Washington in his farewell address, to-wit:

"The constitution, which at any time exists until changed by the explicit and authentic act by the whole people, is sacredly obligatory upon all."

We also reaffirm the attitude of the American people toward the federal constitution as declared by Abraham Lincoln:

"We are by both duty and inclination bound to stick by that constitution in all its letters and spirit from beginning to end. I am for the honest enforcement of the constitution. Our safety, our liberty, depends upon preserving the constitution of the United States, as our forefathers made it inviolate."

The people, through the method provided by the constitution, have written the eighteenth amendment into the constitution. The republican party pledges itself and its nominees to the observance and vigorous enforcement of this provision of the constitution.

Federal Employees—The government today is made up of thousands of conscientious, earnest, self-sacrificing men and women, whose single thought is service to the nation.

We pledge ourselves to maintain and, if possible, to improve the quality of this great company of federal employees.

Campaign Expenditures—Economy, honesty, and decency in the conduct of political campaigns are a necessity if representative government is to be preserved to the people and political parties are to hold the respect of the citizens at large.

The campaign of 1924 complied with all these requirements. It was a campaign the expenses of which were carefully budgeted in advance, and which at the close presented a surplus and not a deficit.

There will not be any relaxing of resolute endeavor to keep our elections clean, honest, and free from taint of any kind. The improper use of money in governmental and political affairs is a great national evil. One of the most effective remedies for this abuse is publicity in all matters touching campaign contributions and expenditures. The republican party, beginning not later than August 1, 1928, and every thirty days thereafter—the last publication being not later than five days before the election—will file with the committees of the house and senate a complete account of all contributions, the names of the contributors, the amounts expended, and for what purposes, and will at all times hold its records and books touching such matters open for inspection.

The party further pledges that it will not create, or permit to be created, any deficit which shall exist at the close of the campaign.

Immigration—The republican party believes that in the interest of both native and foreign born wage earners it is necessary to restrict immigration. Unrestricted immigration would result in widespread unemployment and in the breakdown of the American standard of living. Where, however, the law works undue hardship by depriving the immigrant of the comfort and society of those bound by close family ties, such modification should be adopted as will afford relief.

We commend congress for correcting defects for humanitarian reasons and for providing an effective system of examining prospective immigrants in their home countries.

The priceless heritage of American citizenship is our greatest gift to our friends of foreign birth. Only those who will be loyal to our institutions, who are here in conformity with our laws, and who are in sympathy with our national traditions, ideals, and principles should be naturalized.

Navy—We pledge ourselves to round out and maintain the navy in all types of combatant ships to the full ratio provided for the United States by the Washington treaty for the limitation of naval armament and any amendment thereto.

Hawaii—Alaska—We favor a continuance for the Territory of Hawaii of federal assistance in harbor improvements, the appropriation of its share of federal funds, and the systematic extension of the settlement of public lands by the Hawaiian race.

We indorse the policy of the present administration with reference to Alaska and favor a continuance of the constructive development of the territory.

Women and Public Service—Four years ago at the republican national convention in Cleveland women members of the national committee were welcomed into full association and responsibility in party management. During the four years which have passed they have carried with their men associates an equal share of all responsibilities, and their contribution to the success of the 1924 campaign is well recognized.

The republican party, which from the first has sought to bring this development about, accepts whole-heartedly equality on the part of the women, and in the public service it can present a record of appointments of women in the legal, diplomatic, judicial, treasury, and other governmental departments. We earnestly urge on the women that they participate even more generally than now in party management and activity.

National Defense—We believe that in time of war the nation should draft for its defense not only its citizens but also every resource which may contribute to success. The country demands that should the United States ever again be called upon to defend itself by arms, the president be empowered to draft such material resources and such services as may be required, and to stabilize the prices of services and essential commodities, whether utilized in actual warfare or private activity.

Our Indian Citizens—National citizenship was conferred upon all native-born Indians in the United States by the general Indian enfranchisement act of 1924. We favor the creation of a commission to be appointed by the president, including one or more Indian citizens, to investigate and report to congress upon the existing system of the administration of Indian affairs and to report any inconsistencies that may be found to exist between that system and the rights of the Indian citizens of the United States. We also favor the repeal of any law and the termination of any administrative practice which may be inconsistent with Indian citizenship, to the end that the federal guardianship existing over the persons and properties of Indian tribal communities may not work a prejudice to the personal and property rights of Indian citizens of the United States. The treaty and property rights of the Indians of the United States must be guaranteed to them.

The Negro—We renew our recommendation that the congress enact at the earliest possible date a federal antilynching law so that the full influence of the federal government may be wielded to exterminate this hideous crime.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM

(Adopted at Republican State Convention Held in Des Moines, Iowa, July 18, 1928)

WE, the republicans of Iowa in convention assembled do hereby renew our faith in the principles of the republican party, and reaffirm our support of those principles and of the candidates nominated on the republican ticket.

We heartily endorse the republican platform adopted by the republican national convention at Kansas City, Missouri, and pledge our support to the Honorable Herbert Hoover, candidate for president of the United States, and the Honorable Charles Curtis, our nominee for vice-president. In the selection of Herbert Hoover we have as our standard bearer one of the great men of this generation. His splendid administrative genius, unassailable honesty, power of organization and leadership, mark him as one of the world's great citizens. Our candidate is an Iowa product, with a heritage of the best ideas and ideals that predominate in this state. Our candidate for vice-president is a product of the prairies of our neighboring state of Kansas; their interests while nationwide and worldwide are as well our interests, and ours are theirs. With this heritage, with their ideals, we commend them to the people of this state, with full assurance that under their leadership, the problems confronting us will be solved as under prior republican administrations constructive legislation has been enacted, and sometimes slowly and always surely, the best solution of our nation's difficulties has been reached.

We take justifiable pride in the achievement of the republican party in reducing the tax burdens in both state and nation, calling especial attention to the reduction of our national debt bequeathed to the republican administration by the democratic administration that preceded it, and to the fact that under careful and wise management by the republican state administration and general assembly the state taxes have been substantially reduced here in Iowa.

We express our confidence in Governor John Hammill, and our appreciation of his services to the state of Iowa, and heartily endorse his candidacy for re-election.

The conduct of the other departments of the state administration deserve and receive the commendation of the people of Iowa, and we hereby pledge our support to the entire republican state ticket.

We condemn corruption and dishonesty in office wherever found and commend the energetic efforts that have been and are being made to prosecute and punish those responsible for such offenses, and we express our determination to resist all efforts upon the part of the notoriously corrupt Tammany organization of the city of New York to fasten itself upon our nation.

HIGHWAYS—The people of Iowa want and must have good roads. The primary road system should be completed at the earliest practicable date. The road user should pay for these roads, and without the levying of any property tax.

Our secondary roads should also be improved so as to supplement the primary road system in providing necessary lines of travel between market points and in providing adequate means of all-weather farm-to-market transportation. To that end, and without an increase in taxes, we recommend the adoption of a comprehensive secondary road program.

CONSERVATION—The conservation of the natural resources of our state, the preservation and improvement of its streams, lakes and public parks for the benefit of our own and succeeding generations, is a matter of the greatest concern, and we commend the wise policy adopted by our legislature in providing for the perpetuation and preservation of our public waters and other places of scientific, historical and recreational interest to our people, and we recommend that this policy be continued and that future legislatures provide adequate means and facilities for carrying on more fully and completely the work of conservation.

PROHIBITION—We heartily endorse the resolution on federal prohibition adopted by the republican national convention at Kansas City. We condemn the candidate of the democratic party for his attitude on nullification of federal prohibition in his own state and for his interest in modification of our present laws as shown by his first public statement after his nomination. We pledge the republican party of Iowa and its nominees to the observance and enforcement of the prohibition laws of this state and to their assistance in the enforcement of our federal laws.

LABOR—We reaffirm the traditional friendship of the republican party for labor, and urge such legislation as will continue to conserve the American standard of wages and the American standard of living for those who toil.

We urge the passage of such legislation as will define the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes. We stand committed to the principles of the right of labor to organize and collective bargaining. We favor a continuance of our present restrictive immigration policy.

We suggest that some method of the stabilization of the coal industry be found.

We favor any and all sane legislative enactments as will insure adequate compensation at all times for those who help produce the wealth of the nation.

WATERWAYS—Whereas, the question of transportation rates is vital to the state of Iowa, as we are further from world markets than any agricultural section of the world, and

Whereas, transportation rates affect the price of everything we buy and everything we sell,

Now, therefore, we earnestly urge that the United States government make rapid and adequate appropriations for the completion of a great continuous system of navigable inland waterways, including the Missouri, Mississippi and Illinois rivers and the St. Lawrence waterway.

We recognize that the masterly arguments of Herbert Hoover have convinced every reasonable person of the fundamental soundness and value of this policy.

We believe that the improvement of these rivers will add to the sale of the products of agriculture, stimulate industry and manufacturing in the middle west, and be of great and inestimable value to the people of the entire United States.

We commend the work that has already been done and urge that appropriations be made which will complete these waterways within a period of seven years.

AGRICULTURE—Firmly believing that the farm problem is the most serious problem confronting this country today, and that it is especially serious in the state of Iowa,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we commend the work of our republican senators and representatives in congress for their patriotic and courageous stand and labor in behalf of agriculture during the last several years, and

Be it further resolved, that we affirm our faith in the ability and disposition of the republican party to solve this great problem.

We have supreme confidence in the word, integrity and ability of Herbert Hoover in solving this great problem. Herbert Hoover wired the republican convention at Kansas City that "We must and will find a solution of the agricultural problem." Herbert Hoover has solved every serious problem that he has been asked to solve, and we have supreme faith in his word given to the Kansas City convention that the problem will and must be solved.

In attaining these ends the republicans of Iowa hereby declare:

(a) That water transportation and other transportation facilities be so improved and extended as to reduce transportation costs on agricultural products.

(b) That tariffs be imposed which will absolutely exclude foreign competition with the products of agriculture. Australian hides, Canadian wheat and South American corn, with similar commodities should have no market in the United States.

(c) That a federal farm board be created with adequate power and financial resources to assist in handling farm surpluses to the end that the American farmer can receive his cost of production with a reasonable profit on an equality with other American industries. In proposing such a legislative program it is the belief of the convention that some method should be found to make the same financially self-sustaining by the use of an equalization fee or some other method equally effective.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AND PLATFORM

The democratic national convention of 1928 convened June 26th at Houston, Texas, and adjourned June 29th. Claude G. Bowers of New York City was temporary chairman, Joseph T. Robinson of Little Rock, Ark., permanent chairman, and Key Pittman of Tonopah, Nev., chairman of the resolutions committee.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL PLATFORM OF 1928

We, the democratic party in convention assembled, pause to pay our tribute of love and respect to the memory of him who in his life and in his official actions voiced the hopes and aspirations of all good men and women of every race and clime, the former president of the United States, Woodrow Wilson. His spirit moves on and his example and deeds will exalt those who come after us as they have inspired us.

We are grateful that we were privileged to work with him and again pay tribute to his high ideals and accomplishments.

We reaffirm our devotion to the principles of democratic government formulated by Jefferson and enforced by a long and illustrious line of democratic presidents.

We hold that government must function not to centralize our wealth but to preserve equal opportunity so that all may share in our priceless resources; and not confine prosperity to a favored few. We, therefore, pledge the democratic party to encourage business, small and great alike; to conserve human happiness and liberty; to break the shackles of monopoly and free business of the nation; to respond to popular will.

The function of a national platform is to declare general principles and party policies. We do not, therefore, assume to bind our party respecting local issues or details of legislation.

We, therefore, declare the policy of the democratic party with regard to the following dominant national issues:

The Rights of States—We demand that the constitutional rights and powers of the states shall be preserved in their full vigor and virtue. These constitute a bulwark against centralization and the destructive tendencies of the republican party.

We oppose bureaucracy and the multiplication of offices and office holders.

We demand a revival of the spirit of local self-government without which free institutions cannot be preserved.

Republican Corruption—Unblushingly the republican party offers as its record agriculture prostrate, industry depressed, American shipping destroyed, workmen without employment, everywhere disgust and suspicion, and corruption unpunished and unafraid.

Never in the entire history of the country has there occurred in any given period of time or, indeed, in all time put together, such a spectacle of sordid corruption and unabashed rascality as that which has characterized the administration of federal affairs under eight blighting years of republican rule.

Not the revels of reconstruction, nor all the compounded frauds succeeding that evil era have approached in sheer audacity the shocking thieveries and startling depravities of officials high and low in the public service at Washington.

From cabinet ministers, with their treasonable crimes, to the cheap vendors of official patronage; from the purchasers of seats in the United States senate to the vulgar grafters upon alien trust funds, and upon the hospital resources of the disabled veterans of the world war; from the givers and receivers of stolen funds for republican campaign purposes to the public men who sat by silently consenting and never revealing a fact nor uttering a word in condemnation, the whole official organization under republican rule has become saturated with dishonesty defiant of public opinion and actuated only by a partisan desire to perpetuate its control of the government.

As in the time of Samuel J. Tilden, from whom the presidency was stolen, the watchword of the day should be: "Turn the rascals out."

This is the appeal of the democratic party to the people of the country. To this fixed purpose should be devoted every effort and applied every resource of the party; to this end every minor difference on nonessential issues should be put aside, and a determined and united fight made to rescue the government from those who have betrayed their trust by disgracing it.

Economy, Reorganization—The democratic party stands for efficiency and economy in the administration of public affairs, and we pledge:

(a) Businesslike reorganization of all the departments of the government.

(b) Elimination of duplication, waste and overlapping.

(c) Substitution of modern businesslike methods for existing obsolete and antiquated conditions.

No economy resulted from the republican party rule. The savings they claim take no account of the elimination of expenditures following the end of the world war, the large sums realized from the sale of war materials, nor its failure to supply sufficient funds for the efficient conduct of many important governmental activities.

Finance and Taxation—(a) The federal reserve system created and inaugurated under democratic auspices is the greatest legislative contribution to constructive business ever adopted. The administration of the system for the advantage of stock market speculators must cease. It must be administered for the benefit of farmers, wage earners, merchants, manufacturers and others engaged in constructive business.

(b) The taxing function of governments, free of despotism, has for centuries been regarded as the power above all others which requires vigilant scrutiny to the end that it be not exercised for purposes of favor or oppression.

Three times since the world war the democrats in congress have favored a reduction of the tax burdens of the people in face of stubborn opposition from a republican administration; and each time these reductions have largely been made for the relief of those least able to endure the exactions of a republican fiscal policy.

The tax bill of the session recently ended was delayed by republican tactics and juggled by partisan considerations so as to make impossible a full measure of relief to the greater body of tax payers. The moderate reductions afforded were grudgingly conceded and the whole proceeding in congress, dictated as far as possible from the white house and the treasury, denoted the proverbial desire of the republican party always to discriminate against the masses in favor of privileged classes.

The democratic party avows its belief in the fiscal policy inaugurated by the last democratic administration, which has provided a sinking fund sufficient to extinguish the nation's indebtedness within a reasonable period of time, without harassing the present and next succeeding generations with tax burdens, which, if not unendurable, do in fact check initiative in enterprise and progress in business. Taxes levied beyond the actual requirements of the legally established sinking fund are but an added burden upon the American people, and the surplus thus accumulated in the federal treasury is an incentive to the increasingly extravagant expenditures which have characterized republican administrations. We, therefore, favor a further reduction of the internal taxes of the people.

TARIFF—The democratic tariff legislation will be based on the following policies:

(a) The maintenance of legitimate business and a high standard of wages for American labor.

(b) Increasing the purchasing power of wages and income by the reduction of those monopolistic and extortionate tariff rates bestowed in payment of political debts.

(c) Abolition of log rolling and restoration of the Wilson conception of a fact-finding tariff commission, quasi-judicial and free from the executive domination, which has destroyed the usefulness of the present commission.

(d) Duties that will permit effective competition, insure against monopoly and at the same time produce a fair revenue for the support of government. Actual difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, with adequate safeguard for the wage of the American laborer, must be the extreme measure of every tariff rate.

(e) Safeguarding the public against monopoly created by special tariff favors.

(f) Equitable distribution of the benefits and burdens of the tariff among all.

Wage earner, farmer, stockman, producer and legitimate business in general have everything to gain from a democratic tariff based on justice to all.

CIVIL SERVICE—Grover Cleveland made the extension of the merit system a tenet of our political faith. We shall preserve and maintain the civil service.

AGRICULTURE—Deception upon the farmer and stock raiser has been practiced by the republican party through false and delusive promises for more than fifty years. Specially favored industries have been artificially aided by republican legislation. Comparatively little has been done for agriculture and stock raising upon which national prosperity rests. Unsympathetic inaction with regard to this problem must cease. Virulent hostility of the republican administration to the advocates of farm relief and denial of the right of farm organizations to lead in the development of farm policy must yield to democratic sympathy and friendliness.

Four years ago the republican party, forced to acknowledge the critical situation, pledged itself to take all steps necessary to bring back a balanced condition between agriculture and other industries and labor. Today it faces the country not only with that pledge unredeemed, but broken by the acts of a republican president who is primarily responsible for the failure to offer a constructive program to restore equality to agriculture.

While he had no constructive and adequate program to offer in its stead, he has twice vetoed farm relief legislation and has sought to justify his disapproval of agricultural legislation partly on grounds wholly inconsistent with his acts making industrial monopolies the beneficiaries of government favor; and in indorsing the agricultural policy of the present administration, the republican party in its recent convention served notice upon the farmer that the so-called protective system is not meant for him; that while it offers protection to the privileged few, it promises continued world prices to the producers of the chief cash crops of agriculture.

We condemn the policy of the republican party which promises relief to agriculture only through a reduction of American farm production to the needs of the domestic market. Such a program means the continued deflation of agriculture, the forcing of additional millions from the farms, and the perpetuation of agricultural distress for years to come, with continued bad effects on business and labor throughout the United States.

The democratic party recognizes that the problems of production differ as between agriculture and industry. Industrial production is largely under human control, while agricultural production, because of lack of co-ordination among the 6,500,000 individual farm units, and because of the influence of weather, pests and other causes, is largely beyond human control. The result is that a large crop frequently is produced on a small acreage and a small crop on a large acreage; and measured in money value it frequently happens that a large crop brings less than a small crop.

Producers of crops whose total volume exceeds the needs of the domestic market must continue at a disadvantage until the government shall intervene as seriously and as effectively in behalf of the farmer as it has intervened in behalf of labor and industry. There is a need of supplemental legislation for the control and orderly handling of agricultural surpluses, in order that the price of the surplus may not determine the price of the whole crop. Labor has benefited by collective bargaining and some industries by tariff. Agriculture must be as effectively aided.

The democratic party in its 1924 platform pledged its support to such legislation. It now reaffirms that stand and pledges the united efforts of the legislative and executive branches of government, as far as may be controlled by the party, to the immediate enactment of such legislation, and to such other steps as are necessary to establish and maintain the purchasing power of farm products and the complete economic equality of agriculture.

The democratic party has always stood against special privilege and for common equality under the law. It is a fundamental principle of the party that such tariffs as are levied must not discriminate against any industry, class or section. Therefore, we pledge that in its tariff policy the democratic party will insist upon equality of treatment between agriculture and other industries.

Farm relief must rest on the basis of an economic equality of agriculture with other industries. To give this equality a remedy must be found which will include among other things:

(a) Credit aid by loans to co-operatives on at least as favorable a basis as the government aid to the merchant marine.

(b) Creation of a federal farm board to assist the farmer and stock-raiser in the marketing of their products as the federal reserve board has done for the banker and business man. When our archaic banking and currency system was revised after its record of disaster and panic under republican administrations, it was a democratic congress in the administration of a democratic president that accomplished its stabilization through the federal reserve act, creating the federal reserve board, with powers adequate to its purpose. Now, in the hour of agriculture's need, the democratic party pledges the establishment of a new agricultural policy fitted to present conditions, under the direction of a farm board vested with all the powers necessary to accomplish for agriculture what the federal reserve board has been able to accomplish for finance, in full recognition of the fact that the banks of the country, through voluntary co-operation, were never able to stabilize the financial system of the country until government powers were invoked to help them.

(c) Reduction through proper government agencies of the spread between what the farmer and stock raiser gets and the ultimate consumer pays with consequent benefits to both.

(d) Consideration of the condition of agriculture in the formulation of government financial and tax measures.

We pledge the party to foster and develop co-operative marketing associations through appropriate government aid.

We recognize that experience has demonstrated that members of such associations alone cannot successfully assume the full responsibility for a program that benefits all producers alike. We pledge the party to an earnest endeavor to solve this problem of the distribution of the cost of dealing with crop surpluses over the marketed units of the crop whose producers are benefited by such assistance. The solution of this problem would avoid government subsidy to which the democratic party has always been opposed. The solution of this problem will be a prime and immediate concern of a democratic administration.

We direct attention to the fact that it was a democratic congress in the administration of a democratic president which established the federal loan system and laid the foundation for the entire rural credits structure, which has aided agriculture to sustain in part the shock of the policies of two republican administrations; and we promise thorough-going administration of our rural credits laws, so that the farmers in all sections may secure the maximum benefits intended under these acts.

Mining—Mining is one of the basic industries of this country. We produce more coal, iron and copper than any other country. The value of our mineral production is second only to agriculture. Mining has suffered like agriculture and from similar causes. It is the duty of our government to foster this industry and to remove the restrictions that destroy its prosperity.

Foreign Policy—The republican administration has no foreign policy, it has drifted without plan. This great nation cannot afford to play a minor role in world politics. It must have a sound and positive foreign policy, not a negative one.

We declare for a constructive foreign policy based on these principles:

(a) Outlawry of war and an abhorrence of militarism, conquest and imperialism.

(b) Freedom from entangling political alliances with foreign nations.

(c) Protection of American lives and rights.

(d) Noninterference with the elections or other internal political affairs of any foreign nation. This principle of noninterference extends to Mexico, Nicaragua and all other Latin-American nations. Interference in the purely internal affairs of Latin-American countries must cease.

(e) Rescue of our country from its present impaired world standing and restoration to its former position as a leader in the movement for international arbitration, conciliation, conference and limitation of armament by international agreement.

(f) International agreements for reduction of all armaments and the end of competitive war preparations and in the meantime, the maintenance of an army and navy adequate for national defense.

(g) Full, free and open co-operation with all other nations, for the promotion of peace and justice through the world.

(h) In our foreign relations this country should stand as a unit, and, to be successful, foreign policies must have the approval and the support of the American people.

(i) Abolition of the practice of the president of entering into and carrying out agreements with a foreign government, either de facto or de jure, for the protection of such government against revolution or foreign attack, or for the supervision of its internal affairs, when such agreements have not been advised and consented to by the senate as provided in the constitution of the United States, and we condemn the administration for carrying out such an unratified agreement that requires us to use our armed forces in Nicaragua.

(j) Recognition that the Monroe Doctrine is a cardinal principle of this government promulgated for the protection of ourselves and our Latin-American neighbors. We shall seek their friendly co-operation in the maintenance of this doctrine.

(k) We condemn the republican administration for lack of statesmanship and efficiency in negotiating the 1921 treaty for the limitation of armaments, which limited only the construction of battleships and ships of over 10,000 tons. Merely a gesture towards peace, it accomplished no limitation of armament, because it simply substituted one weapon of destruction for another. While it resulted in the destruction of our battleships, and the blueprints of battleships of other nations, it placed no limitation upon construction of aircraft, submarines, cruisers, warships under 10,000 tons, poisonous gases, or other weapons of destruction. No agreement was ratified with regard to submarines and poisonous gases. The attempt of the president to remedy the failure of 1921 by the Geneva conference of 1928 was characterized by the same lack of statesmanship and efficiency and resulted in entire failure.

In consequence the race between nations in the building of unlimited weapons of destruction still goes on and the peoples of the world are still threatened with war and burdened with taxation for additional armament.

WATERWAYS, FLOOD CONTROL—The federal government and state governments respectively, now have absolute and exclusive sovereignty and control over enormous water powers, which constitute one of the greatest assets of the nation. This sovereign title and control must be preserved respectively in the state and federal governments, to the end that the people may be protected against exploitation of this great resource and that water powers may be expeditiously developed under such regulations as will insure to the people reasonable rates and equitable distribution.

We favor and will promote deep waterways from the great lakes to the gulf and to the Atlantic ocean.

We favor the fostering and building up of water transportation through improvement of inland waterways and removal of discrimination against water transportation.

Flood control and the lowering of flood levels are essential to the safety of life and property, the productivity of our lands, the navigability of our streams, the reclaiming of our wet and overflowed lands. We favor expeditious construction of flood relief works on the Mississippi and Colorado rivers and such reclamation and irrigation projects upon the Colorado river as may be found feasible.

We favor appropriation for prompt co-ordinated surveys by the United States to determine the possibilities of general navigation improvements and water power development on navigable streams and their tributaries and to secure reliable information as to the most economical navigation improvement, in combination with the most efficient and complete development of water power.

We favor the strict enforcement of the federal water power act, a democratic act, and insist that the public interest in water power sites, ignored by two republican administrations, be protected.

Flood Control—Being deeply inmpressed by the terrible disasters from floods in the Mississippi valley during 1927, we heartily indorse the flood control act of last May, which recognizes that the flood waters of the Mississippi river and its tributaries constitute a national problem of the gravest character and makes provision for their speedy and effective control. This measure is a continuation and expansion of the policy established by a democratic congress in 1917 in the act of that year for controlling floods on the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers. It is a great piece of constructive legislation, and we pledge our party to its vigorous and early enforcement.

Conservation, Reclamation—We shall conserve the natural resources of our country for the benefit of the people and to protect them against waste and monopolization. Our disappearing resources of timber call for a national policy of reforestation. The federal government should improve and develop its public lands so that they may go into private ownership and become subjected to taxation for the support of the states wherein they exist. The democratic administration will actively, efficiently and economically carry on reclamation projects and make equitable adjustments with the homestead entrymen for the mistakes the government has made, and extend all practical aid to refinance reclamation and drainage projects.

Transportation—Efficient and economical transportation is essential to the prosperity of every industry. Cost of transportation controls the income of every human being and materially affects the cost of living. We must, therefore, promote every form of transportation to a state of highest efficiency.

Recognizing the prime importance of air transportation we shall encourage its development by every possible means. Improved roads are of vital importance not only to commerce and industry, but also to agriculture and rural life. The federal government should construct and maintain at its own expense roads upon its public lands. We affirm our approval of the federal roads law, enacted by a democratic administration.

Common carriers, whether by land, water or rail, must be protected in an equal opportunity to compete so that governmental regulations against exorbitant rates and inefficiency will be aided by competition.

Labor—(a) We favor the principle of collective bargaining and the democratic principle that organized labor should choose its own representatives without coercion or interference.

(b) Labor is not a commodity. Human rights must be safeguarded. Labor should be exempt from the operation of anti-trust laws.

(c) We recognize that legislative and other investigations have shown the existence of grave abuse in the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes. No injunctions should be granted in labor disputes except upon proof of threatened irreparable injury and after notice and hearing, and the injunction should be confined to those acts which do directly threaten irreparable injury. The expressed purpose of representatives of capital, labor and the bar to devise a plan for the elimination of the present evils with respect to injunctions must be supported and legislation designed to accomplish these ends formulated and passed.

(d) We favor legislation providing that products of convict labor shipped from one state to another shall be subject to laws of the latter state as though they had been produced therein.

Unemployment—Unemployment is present, widespread and increasing. Unemployment is almost as destructive to the happiness, comfort and wellbeing of human beings as war. We expend vast sums of money to protect our people against the evils of war but no government program is anticipated to prevent the awful suffering and economic losses of unemployment. It threatens the wellbeing of millions of our people and endangers the prosperity of the nation. We favor the adoption by the government, after a study of this subject, of a scientific plan whereby, during periods of unemployment, appropriations shall be made available for the construction of necessary public works and the lessening, as far as consistent with public interests, of government construction work when labor is generally and satisfactorily employed in private enterprise.

Study should also be made of modern methods of industry and a constructive solution found to absorb and utilize the surplus human labor by the increasing use of machinery.

ACCIDENT COMPENSATION—We favor legislation making fair and liberal compensation to government employes who are injured in accident or by occupational disease and to the dependents of such workers as may die as a result thereof.

FEDERAL EMPLOYES—Federal employes should receive a living wage based upon American standards of decent living. Present wages are in many instances far below that standard. We favor a fair and liberal retirement law for government employes in the classified service.

VETERANS—Through democratic votes, and in spite of two republican presidents' opposition, the congress has maintained America's traditional policy to generously care for the veterans of the world war. In extending them free hospitalization, a statutory award for tuberculosis, a program of progressive hospital construction, and provisions for compensation for the disabled, the widows and orphans, America has surpassed the record of any nation in the history of the world.

We pledge the veterans that none of the benefits heretofore accorded by the Wilson administration and the votes of democratic members of congress shall be withdrawn; that these will be added to more in accordance with veterans' and their dependents' actual needs. Generous appropriations, honest management, the removal of vexatious administration delays, and sympathetic assistance of the veterans of all wars is what the democratic party demands and promises.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN—We declare for equality of women with men in all political and government matters.

Children are the chief asset of the nation. Therefore, their protection through infancy and childhood against exploitation is an important national duty.

The democratic party has always opposed the exploitation of women in industry and has stood for such conditions of work as will preserve their health and safety.

We favor an equal wage for equal service; and likewise favor adequate appropriation for the women's and children's bureau.

IMMIGRATION—Laws which limit immigration must be preserved in full force and effect, but the provisions contained in these laws that separate husbands from wives and parents from infant children are inhuman and not essential to the purpose or the efficacy of such law.

RADIO—Government supervision must secure to all the people the advantage of radio communication and likewise guarantee the right of free speech. Official control in contravention of this guarantee should not be tolerated. Governmental control must prevent monopolistic use of radio communication and guarantee equitable distribution and enjoyment thereof.

COAL—Bituminous coal is not only the common base of manufacture, but is a vital agency in our interstate transportation. The demoralization of this industry, its labor conflicts and distress, its waste of a national resource and disordered public service, demand constructive legislation that will allow capital and labor a fair share of prosperity with adequate protection to the consuming public.

ELECTION REFORM—We favor legislation to prevent defeated members of both houses of the congress from participating in the sessions of the congress by fixing the date for convening the congress immediately after the biennial national election.

LAW ENFORCEMENT—The republican party, for eight years in complete control of the government at Washington, presents the remarkable spectacle of feeling compelled in its national platform to promise obedience to a provision of the federal constitution which it has flagrantly disregarded and to apologize to the country for its failure to enforce laws enacted by the congress of the United States. Speaking for the national democracy, this convention pledges the party and its nominees to an honest effort to enforce the eighteenth amendment and all other provisions of the federal constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto.

CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES—We condemn the improper and excessive use of money in elections as a danger threatening the very existence of democratic institutions. Republican expenditures in senatorial primaries and elections have been so exorbitant as to constitute a national scandal. We favor publicity in all matters affecting campaign contributions and expenditures.

We shall, beginning not later than August 1, 1928, and every thirty days thereafter, the last publication and filing being not later than five days before the election, publish in the press and file with the appropriate committees of the house and senate a complete account of all contributions, the names of the contributors, the amounts expended and the purposes for which expenditures are made and will at all times hold open for public inspection the books and records relating to such matters. In the event that any financial obligations are contracted and not paid, our national committee will similarly report and publish at least five days before the election, all details respecting such obligations.

We agree to keep and maintain a permanent record of all campaign contributions and expenditures and to insist that contributions by the citizens of one state to the campaign committees of other states shall have immediate publicity.

MERCHANT MARINE—We reaffirm our support of an efficient, dependable American merchant marine for the carriage of the greater portion of our commerce and for the national defense.

The democratic party has consistently and vigorously supported the shipping services maintained by the regional United States shipping board in the interest of all ports and all sections of our country, and has successfully opposed the discontinuance of any of these lines. We favor the transfer of these lines gradually to the local private American companies when such companies can show their ability to take over and permanently maintain the lines.

Lines that cannot now be transferred to private enterprise should continue to be operated as at present and should be kept in an efficient state by remodeling of some vessels and replacement of others.

We are unalterably opposed to a monopoly in American shipping and are opposed to the operation of any of our service in a manner that would retard the development of any ports or sections of our country.

We oppose such sacrifices and favoritism as exhibited in the past in the matter of alleged sales, and insist that the primary purpose of the legislation upon this subject be the establishment and maintenance of an adequate American merchant marine.

ARMENIA—We favor the most earnest efforts on the part of the United States to secure that fulfillment of the promises and engagements made during and following the world war by the United States and the allied powers to Armenia and her people.

EDUCATION—We believe with Jefferson and other founders of the republic that ignorance is the enemy of freedom and that each state, being responsible for the intellectual and moral qualifications of its citizens and for the expenditure of the moneys collected by taxation for the support of its schools, shall use its sovereign right in all matters pertaining to education.

The federal government should offer to the states such counsel, advice, results of research and aid as may be made available through the federal agencies for the general improvement of our schools in view of our national needs.

MONOPOLIES AND ANTI-TRUST LAWS—During the last seven years, under republican rule, the anti-trust laws have been thwarted, ignored and violated so that the country is rapidly becoming controlled by trusts and sinister monopolies formed for the purpose of wringing from the necessaries of life an unrighteous profit.

These combinations are often formed and conducted in violation of law, encouraged, aided and abetted in their activities by republican administration and are driving all small trades people and small industrialists out of business. Competition is one of the most sacred, cherished and economic rights of the American people.

We demand the strict enforcement of the anti-trust laws and the enactment of other laws, if necessary, to control this great menace to trade and commerce, and thus to preserve the right of the small merchant and manufacturer to earn a legitimate profit from his business.

Dishonest business should be treated without influence at the national capitol. Honest business, no matter its size, need have no fears of a democratic administration. The democratic party will ever oppose illegitimate and dishonest business. It will foster, promote and encourage all legitimate business enterprises.

Canal Zone—We favor the employment of American citizens in the operation and maintenance of the Panama canal in all positions above the grade of messenger and favor as liberal wages and conditions of employment as prevailed under previous democratic administrations.

Alaska-Hawaii—We favor the development of Alaska and Hawaii in the traditional American way through self-government. We favor the appointment of only bona fide residents to office in the territories. We favor the extension and improvement of the mail, air mail, telegraph and radio, agricultural experimenting, highway construction and other necessary federal activities in the territories.

Philippines—The Filipino people have succeeded in maintaining a stable government and have thus fulfilled the only condition laid down by the congress as a prerequisite to the granting of independence. We declare that it is now our duty to keep our promise to these people by granting them immediately the independence which they so honorably covet.

Porto Rico—We favor granting to Porto Rico such territorial form of government as would meet the present economic conditions of the island, and provide for the aspirations of her people, with the view to ultimate statehood accorded to all territories of the United States since the beginning of our government, and we believe any officials appointed to administer the government of such territories should be qualified by previous bona fide residence therein.

Public Health—The democratic party recognizes that not only the productive wealth of the nation but its contentment and happiness depend upon the health of its citizens. It, therefore, pledges itself to enlarge the existing bureau of public health and to do all things possible to stamp out communicable and contagious diseases, and to ascertain preventive means and remedies for these diseases, such as cancer, infantile paralysis and others which heretofore have largely defied the skill of physicians. We pledge our party to spare no means to lift the apprehension of diseases from the minds of our people, and to appropriate all moneys necessary thereto to carry out this pledge.

DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM

(Adopted at State Convention Held in Des Moines, Iowa, July 27, 1928)

We reaffirm our allegiance to the great principles of democracy as they have been enunciated and administered by the illustrious and immortal leaders of democracy—Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson. We avow adherence and devotion to those principles that will safeguard the people of this nation against the usurpation of their rights by legislative power, and the destruction of representative government.

We commit our party to the immortal principle that governments are maintained for the welfare of all its people and not for special privilege to any favored class, and we pledge the power and influence of democracy to these principles.

Call Platform Frank—We endorse the platform adopted by the national convention at Houston. We believe it is a clear and unequivocal expression of the attitude of the democratic party on all vital and national problems. We are confident that its frank and fearless declaration of principles and policies will win the indorsement of the electorate that favor the banishment of hypocrisy from politics and the establishment of honest and courageous statesmanship in national affairs.

We further indorse the national convention's choice of candidates for the high office of president and vice-president. The selection of Alfred E. Smith as candidate for the office as president presents for the serious consideration of the electorate of the nation an executive of recognized ability. His record as governor of the state of New York is an unbroken record of unflinching devotion for the cause of all classes of its people. It is a record of honest, courageous, constructive and successful leadership. His position upon all matters indicates he has been actuated by the motive of fairness and equality to all of the people and at all times.

Faith in Smith—We have implicit faith and confidence in his sterling integrity and rugged honesty, and we are confident that his promises and pledges will be fulfilled and his public trust held inviolate.

Joseph T. Robinson, the party candidate for vice-president, is a statesman of sterling character and recognized capacity. His record of service as former governor of his state and as senator of the United States, is marked by unswerving adherence to American ideals and the preservation of the inalienable rights of its citizens. He is a leader who understands the problems of the whole people and possesses a wise judgment and discretion in national affairs. We heartily indorse the candidacies of this courageous and peerless statesman and commend him to the electorate of the nation.

We deplore the inefficiency which has marked the administration of the executive affairs of this state, we have always been zealous to have Iowa maintain its high place among the states of the nation, but we have sacrificed our position because of the insincerity and vacillating attitude of our chief executive upon important issues which has reflected itself in a form of unstable and unreliable administration of the affairs of the state.

Indorse Housel—We are anxious that the affairs of the people be administered honestly and efficiently. We charge our public servants with the responsibility of giving to the people of this state a business administration characterized by the motives that prevail in the administration of individual enterprise and with a manifest determination to administer their public trust by the same rule which governs the administration of all private trust.

The democratic candidates for state offices are all citizens of excellent business attainments, and well qualified for the offices sought. We indorse every candidate and specially emphasize the fitness of our candidate for governor, W. Housel. They may all be trusted with the affairs of state and we ask for them your support.

AGRICULTURE—We are mindful of the urgent necessity for farm relief. We are mindful of the appeals which have been made to our national government for helpful legislation. We are mindful of the persistent denials these demands have met and the reasons given for such denial. We submit to the farmers of Iowa and the nation that the attitude of the democratic party indicates a sincere and genuine purpose to secure for agriculture its just demands. The declaration of the national platform upon the question of farm relief is broad and comprehensive; it embodies the best thought of recognized leaders of farm relief who are familiar with every angle of agricultural distress. Recognized farm leaders have expressed their fullest approval of the democratic national farm relief plank, and we the democrats of Iowa, whole-heartedly indorse this measure and pledge the democracy of Iowa to use its influence in every legitimate manner and form, and to labor insistently and consistently for legislation which in the judgment of experienced agricultural leadership, will secure the desired results.

We denounce the persistently hostile attitude of the Coolidge administration towards this great question of farm relief, and we warn the farmers of Iowa and all others who are interested in the economic welfare of our great agricultural state, that, in the event of the election of Mr. Hoover to the presidency of the United States, the republican press, republican leadership and an incoming republican administration will construe his success at the polls as an affirmation and approval of the record of the Coolidge administration on the grave question of farm relief and will construe the same as a mandate to such incoming administration to ignore the demands of agriculture for economic equality with other industries.

LABOR—We most heartily indorse the pledges of the democratic national platform and the announced attitude of our several candidates for national and state offices on the question of labor, and pledge to labor the unswerving support of all state officers. We deplore the indiscriminate and tyrannical use of the injunction in labor disputes and pledge to labor our most earnest co-operation to remedy immediately the present unjust use thereof to the degredation of labor and the ultimate ruination of the home and free government.

PROHIBITION—Fully cognizant of the chaotic condition with the attendent growing desregard for law and order produced through the partial and inefficient enforcement and administration of the present prohibitory laws we hereby indorse the expressed sentiments of our candidate for president, Alfred E. Smith.

STATE ADMINISTRATION—We demand that the various departments of our state government be administered for the benefit of all the people, and we condemn the practice of converting these instrumentalities of government into bureaus for partisan purposes. We believe that these departments have been used by the present state administration to promote the interests of republican candidates for state offices through the raising of campaign funds in violation of the criminal statutes of our state, and we demand a full and honest legislative investigation of these departments and the punishment of those guilty of such violation.

ROADS—The democratic party of the state of Iowa is committed to a forward-looking, progressive and economical policy in the construction and improvement of the highways of the state. We believe that the issuance of a $100,000,000 bond issue for road improvement purposes is not a political question. We deplore the fact that during the past primary campaign the republican candidate for governor attempted to make this a political question solely for the purpose of promoting his own political fortune.

This question is purely an economic one and it should be acted upon by the electorate of the state without any political bias or partisan motives. We pledge our candidate to carry into effect by proper means the expressed mandate of the people on this question, faithfully, impartially and economically.

CONSERVATION—We believe in the conservation of the natural resources of the state, and the preservation to posterity of its streams, lakes and public places. We are committed to a policy of providing by proper legislation for the perpetuation and preservation of public waters for public purposes. We recommend that legislation be enacted to provide for carrying on full and adequate means for the conservation of these resources, and that attention be given to the reforestation of the wooded areas of the state.

Motion Pictures—We recognize the moving pictures as an educational institution and we affirm our adherence to the party tradition of free speech, free press and the right of assembly with free interchange of thought, but with Will Hays at the high trust reposed in him, his use of stolen money to further the interests of the republican party, his undenied perjury before the senate investigating committee, therefore, be it resolved that we deem his retention a direct challenge to the moral sentiment of the country and that an organization to supervise the industry should be established and maintained as long as he remains at its head.

PRIMARY ELECTION

The term "Primary Election" is construed under the law to apply to an election by the members of various political parties for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for public office, for selecting delegates to conventions, and for the selection of party committeemen. The law provides that the primary election shall consist of an election by all political parties and shall be held at the various voting places of the several precincts on the first Monday in June, in each even numbered year, for the nomination of candidates for such offices as are to be filled at the general election in November next ensuing (except candidates for judge of the supreme court and district court, which shall be by a judicial convention), and for senator in the congress of the United States, in the years in which senators are to be elected.

The board of supervisors of each county (acting as a county board of canvassers) meets on the second Tuesday following the primary election in June and canvasses the votes cast at the several precincts and makes an abstract thereof. A separate abstract of the canvass duly certified is then forwarded to the secretary of state for the following offices:

United States senator.
All state officers.
Representatives in congress.
Senators and representatives in the general assembly.

On the second Monday after the June primary election, the executive council meets as a state canvassing board, and opens and canvasses the abstract returns received from each county in the state. Said board makes abstracts of its canvasses, showing the number of ballots cast for each person voted for, and the person having the highest number of votes in the state or district (provided he receives 35 per cent of all the votes cast by the party for such office), is duly and legally nominated and is entitled to have his name printed on the official ballot for the general election.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS FROM 1789 TO 1928

AGGREGATE POPULAR VOTE AND ELECTORAL VOTE FOR CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENT AT EACH ELECTION

The record of any popular vote for electors prior to 1824 is so meager and imperfect that a compilation would be useless. In most of the states, for more than a quarter century following the establishment of the government, the state legislatures "appointed" the presidential electors, and the people, therefore, voted only indirectly for them, their choice being expressed by their votes for members of the legislature. In this tabulation only the aggregate electoral votes for candidates for president and vice-president in the first nine quadrennial elections appear.

REFERENCE NOTES TO THE FIVE SUCCEEDING PAGES

*The candidates starred were elected. (a) The first republican party is claimed by the present democratic party as its progenitor. (b) No candidate having a majority of the electoral vote, the house of representatives elected Adams. (c) Candidates of the anti-masonry party. (d) There being no choice, the senate elected Johnson. (e) Eleven southern states, being within the belligerent territory, did not vote. (f) Three southern states disfranchised. (g) Horace Greeley died after election, and democratic electors scattered their votes. (h) There being a dispute over the electoral vote of Florida, Louisiana, Oregon and South Carolina, they were referred by congress to an electoral commission composed of eight Republicans and seven Democrats, which, by a strict party vote, awarded 185 electoral votes to Hayes and 184 to Tilden. (i) Free Democrat. (j) Free Silver Prohibition party. (k) In Massachusetts. There was also a native American ticket in that state, which received 184 votes. (m) Middle of the Road or Anti-Fusion People's party. (n) United Christian party. (o) Union Reform party.

ELECTORAL VOTES

1789. Previous to 1804 each elector voted for two candidates for president. The one who received the largest number of votes was declared president, and the one who received the next largest number of votes was declared vice-president. The electoral votes for the first president of the United States were: George Washington, 69; John Adams, of Massachusetts, 34; John Jay, of New York, 9; R. H. Harrison, of Maryland, 6; John Rutledge, of South Carolina, 6; John Hancock, of Massachusetts, 4; George Clinton, of New York, 3; Samuel Huntington, of Connecticut, 2; John Milton, of Georgia, 2; James Armstrong, of Georgia; Benjamin Lincoln, of Massachusetts, and Edward Telfair, of Georgia, 1 vote each. Vacancies (votes not cast), 4. George Washington was chosen president and John Adams vice-president.

1792. George Washington, Federalist, received 132 votes; John Adams, Federalist, 77; George Clinton, of New York, Republican (a) 50; Thomas Jefferson, of Virginia, Republican, 4; Aaron Burr, of New York, Republican, 1 vote each. Vacancies, 3. George Washington was chosen president and John Adams vice-president.

1796. John Adams, Federalist, 71; Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 68; Thomas Pinckney, of South Carolina, Federalist, 59; Aaron Burr, of New York, Republican, 30; Samuel Adams, of Massachusetts, Republican, 15; Oliver Ellsworth, of Connecticut, Independent, 11; George Clinton, of New York, Republican, 7; John Jay, of New York, Federalist, 5; James Iredell, of North Carolina, Federalist, 3; George Washington, of Virginia, John Henry, of Maryland, and S. Johnson, of North Carolina, all Federalists, 2 votes each; Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, of South Carolina, Federalist, 1 vote. John Adams was chosen president and Thomas Jefferson vice-president.

1800. Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 73; Aaron Burr, Republican, 73; John Adams, Federalist, 65; Charles C. Pinckney, Federalist, 64; John Jay, Federalist,

1 vote. There being a tie vote for Jefferson and Burr, the choice devolved upon the house of representatives. Jefferson received the votes of ten states, which being the largest vote cast for a candidate, elected him president. Burr received the votes of four states, which being the next largest vote, elected him vice-president. There were 2 blank votes.

1804. The constitution of the United States having been amended, the electors at this election voted for a president and a vice-president, instead of for two candidates for President. The result was as follows: For president, Thomas Jefferson, Republican, 162; Charles C. Pinckney, Federalist, 14. For vice-president, George Clinton, Republican, 162; Rufus King, of New York, Federalist, 14. Jefferson was chosen president and Clinton vice-president.

Monroe was chosen president and Tompkins vice-president.

1820. For president, James Monroe, of Virginia, Republican, 231; John Q. Adams, of Massachusetts, Republican, 1. For vice-president, Daniel D. Tompkins, Republican, 218; Richard Stockton, of New Jersey, 8; Daniel Rodney, of Delaware, 4; Robert G. Harper, of Maryland, and Richard Rush, of Pennsylvania, 1 vote each. Vacancies, 3.
